Brilliant Psychology Student Held For Slaying—Says She Had "Lust To Kill"

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 9.—A sanity commission was appointed today to examine Hope Morgan, 25, brilliant psychology student and social worker, who yesterday shot and killed her life-long friend, Miss Elizabeth Giltner, 25, the daughter of a Michigan State College professor, three days before Miss Giltner was to have been married.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Dec. 9.—Police today planned a sanity hearing for Hope Morgan, 25, to determine why the brilliant psychology student, suddenly transformed into a tigress killer, pumped five bullets into the body of her chum, Miss Elizabeth Giltner, 25, daughter of a Michigan State College professor, three days before Miss Giltner's scheduled society wedding.

"I had an insane lust to kill somebody—anybody" was the only explanation Miss Morgan could give, police said, as she calmly confessed to the crime. She had been dominated by homicidal impulses for a year, she said.

Held In County Jail

Miss Morgan, comely and mild-mannered, who turned to social settlement work after studying abnormal psychology during her college days with Miss Giltner, was held in the county jail at Mason for arraignment today.

A special matron was assigned to her cell. She had tried to kill herself after riddling Miss Giltner's body with bullets late yesterday in the breakfast nook of the latter's home, she told police.

The victim, daughter of Dr. Ward S. Giltner, nationally known dean of veterinary medicine at the state

Italian Volunteers Plan To Join Spanish Rebels

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Dec. 9.—Gripped by fear that General Francisco Franco may fail to capture Spain for fascism, Italy today is mobilizing volunteer troops openly for speedy dispatch to the war zone.

With the apparent knowledge of the Italain government, at least 8,500 soldiers have already been sent to battle for the rebels and against the establishment of a Soviet regime in the Mediterranean, it was authoritatively learned.

Alarm lest Russian aid for the leftist loyalists has reached such tremendous proportions that Gen. Franco will be unable to capture Madrid, let alone the rest of Spain, has reached a point where public recruiting is now being permitted here.

Volunteers Enrolled.

Volunteers are being enrolled, it was learned on the highest authority, at one of the main recruiting stations in Rome, at the Palazzo Braschi in the Piazza Navona.

Two Robberies By Lone Bandit

Gas Stations In Seventh Ward And On Butler Avenue Hold-Up Scenes

ROBBERIES OCCUR IN EARLY MORNING

Early this morning an armed bandit held up attendants at two widely separated local gasoline service stations and escaped with $51.15. Officers in cruiser cars failed to find the bandit.

The stations robbed were the Mahoning Valley Oil Company at North Liberty and Clayton streets at 2:53 a. m., and the Foley station at 1115 Butler avenue at 5:13 a. m. One attendant was on duty at each station when the holdup occurred.

Police secured a meagre description of the bandit.

In Seventh Ward

Zearl Fowler was on duty at the Mahoning Valley Oil Company station, seated in the rear of a stove when the unmasked bandit with a nickle-plated revolver in his hand, entered the station.

Fowler reports the robber instructed him to get him the money from the cash register. Fowler told the bandit he, himself, would have to take it. The bandit did, stealing $26.15.

After leaving the station the holdup man fled south in Liberty street.

At Butler Avenue Station

A little more than two hours later, or at 5:13 a. m., he appeared at the gasoline station at 1115 Butler avenue, where D. M. Foley, attendant was asleep. The lights were extinguished and door locked.

The bandit knocked on the door and was admitted.

"Get me that money" the bandit demanded.

Foley gave him $25.00 from the cash register after which the holdup man fled from the station to an auto parked 300 feet distant. The machine was driven toward Cascade street.

Foley said he did not see any revolver. However, he believed the man's hand clutched a revolver in his pocket as his hand was in his pocket when he entered the service station.

Cruiser cars containing Lieutenant of Police Kennedy, Suber Harper and Flinner combed the city, but failed to find the bandit.

Air Liner Crashes Fourteen Dead

Spanish Inventor Of Autogyro Is Among Victims Near Croydon, Eng.

CRASH OCCURS JUST AFTER TAKE-OFF

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CROYDON, Eng., Dec. 9.—Juan De La Cierva, Spanish inventor of the autogyro who devoted his life to perfection of "crash-proof" aviation, was among fourteen persons killed today when a royal Dutch airliner crashed in flames shortly after taking off from fog-bound Croydon airport.

Admiral Solomon Lindman, who like Cierva was listed as a passenger aboard the plane, also was believed killed.

Some hours after the crash, air line officials could only state that of the entire complement of seventeen aboard the plane, only the stewardess, a wireless operator and a German passenger named Walter Schuberk were alive.

Terrific Crash

The huge airlinger, an American-built Douglas luxury plane, took off through the thick mist at 10:50 a. m., bound for Amsterdam, Holland, and Germany.

A few moments later, a terrific crash was heard. Either the plane failed to gain altitude fast enough or the pilot miscalculated in the heavy fog, and the liner crashed into an unoccupied house on a suburban road near the airport.

Bursting into flames immediately, the craft set fire to several houses, but airport attendants, rushing to the scene by motorcycle and on foot, were able to extricate six of those aboard while still alive. Three, however, died later in a hospital.

The disaster was one of the worst that has occurred on British soil.

Evening Hours Of Local Stores Start Next Week

Evening Holiday Shopping Period Will Commence On Thursday, December 17

MERCHANTS AGREE ON OPENING DATE

Through the cooperation of the members of the Retail Merchants Division of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, and all other mercantile interests of New Castle, it has been decided that all of the stores, with the exception of the jewelry stores, will begin their schedule of Pre-Christmas evening hours, on Thursday evening, December 17, on which date they will start keeping open evenings until 9 p. m. until Christmas.

In this action, concurred in by all of the merchants, an exception was made for the jewelry stores, whose business is more seasonal, and because of the fact that engraving and other services have to be rendered which necessitates a longer period of time to complete. Hence, the jewelers will start keeping open evenings on Monday evening, December 14.

All of the other stores in the city, including department stores, limited price stores, five and ten cent stores, hardware, furniture, shoe stores and all others, will not start until the following Thursday, December 17.

The matter was thoroughly discussed by the merchants and con-

Report Pope Pius Slightly Improved

May Be Chair-Bound Invalid Remainder Of His Days Is Fear

(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 9.—Pope Pius, although slightly improved in his illness today, may be a chair-bound invalid for the remainder of his life, International News Service learned on high authority.

The pontiff, who has led an unusually strenuous life even through his late seventies, is facing the possibility bravely, and he almost defies the advice of his doctors and aides to lighten his load of work.

The pope was officially reported "materially" improved today, but members of his official family were saddened at the effect his present illness has had upon him.

British Hold Hope King Edward Will Retain His Throne

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Hope rode high throughout the British empire today that King Edward would choose to remain upon his throne and withdraw his desire for a morganatic marriage with Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

But despite the cheerful tone of the press and official intimations he will not abdicate, the nation and dominions remained on tenter-hooks awaiting announcement of the king's final decision.

Jitters Remain

The feeling in all quarters was that until a definite statement has been made one way or the other, the severe case of imperial jitters springing from fears of his abdiction cannot possibly be dispelled.

The news, whatever it may be, is again confidently expected within 48 hours at the maximum.

It may come today. Clement Attlee, Laborite leader, is scheduled to present his sixth question on the marriage crisis to Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in the house of commons this afternoon.

But whether it will be answered today or the reply deferred until tomorrow remains to be seen.

Long Conference

The dramatic five-hour conference last night between the king and Baldwin at Fort Belvedere, attended by several members of the royal family, ended two hours before midnight with strong indications a final answer had been conveyed to the premier and that the present status of the matter is one of adjusting details.

A report circulating here said one of the points discussed in the last few days concerned a formula whereby King Edward would be permitted to see Mrs. Simpson when he desired, provided such meetings were held outside of England.

Soviet Steamers Being Halted By Spanish Rebels

(International News Service)

ROME, Dec. 9.—Spanish rebel warships have halted six Soviet steamers and one vessel flying the British flag off the coast of Spain, all loaded with munitions and war supplies for the Spanish Loyalists, the newspaper Giornale D'Italia said today.

The report was carried in a Gibraltar dispatch, which added the vessel flying Britain's flag was loaded with 100 cannon.

All seven ships were forced to proceed to rebel ports under escort, said the Giornale.

Premier Delays New Statement On King's Plans

ANOTHER RESPITE HAS BEEN GRANTED

Decision Of King On Plan To Marry Mrs. Simpson Is Still Unannounced

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Indicating he expects overnight developments in the constitutional crisis arising from King Edward's plans to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin told the house of commons today he hopes a new statement tomorrow.

The prime minister inferentially asked for another twenty-four hours respite before committing himself or the government to commons when Clement Attlee, laborite leader in the house, asked:

"Can the premier say whether he is now in a position to add anything to the statement made to the house on Monday?"

May Make Statement Thursday

"I regret," Baldwin replied, "I am not in a position to add anything today but I hope to make a statement tomorrow."

"May I ask," persisted Attlee, "whether the premier can give us good hopes of a statement tomorrow or anxiety is continuing and increasing?"

"I can assure Mr. Attlee and the house no one realize that more than I do."

Frederick Bellenger, laborite, then called the premier's attention to "financial inconvenience" being caused by the present suspense.

"May I ask," he said, "whether

PLAN REBUILDING G. O. P.

Party Leaders Ponder Plans

Survivors In Congress Will Confer On Program For Party's Future

REPUBLICAN PARTY IS FAR FROM DEAD

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Republican leaders in congress today planned to assume leadership in a movement to develop a party program on which it can seek victory in the 1940 presidential election.

A series of conferences between Senator Charles McNary of Oregon and Rep. Bertrand H. Snell, Republican leaders of senate and house, respectively, will start the movement.

Conferences of the Republican members of both chambers are slated just before congress convenes January 3.

The task of rebuilding the party was thrust upon the Republicans on Capitol Hill by Republican National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton.

"So far as I am concerned, I am willing to assume my full share of the responsibility," said Snell. "I am sure that others will do likewise.

Party Not Dead

"The Republican party is not dead. The party's candidates for the house polled 19,000,000 votes and exceeded the presidential vote of the party candidate by 2,000,000. The Harding, Coolidge and first Hoover popular votes showed a greater percentage for them than the last election did for President Roosevelt."

A battle over the future trend of the party was assured in the house and also was likely to develop among senate Republicans.

Rep. Hamilton Fish of New York planned to make a demand at a conference of house Republicans on January 4 for liberalization of the party and a complete ousting of the "Old Guard." Snell and McNary were expected to counsel a "middle-of-the-road" policy, with emphasis upon winning the farm states back to the party.

Senator Borah of Idaho is expected to present a program for rehabilitation of the party soon after congress convenes.

Meantime, Snell forecast a militant attitude upon the part of house Republicans. He said they would accept all administration proposals believed to be sound but would oppose "log rolling" and granting of a "black check" to the president.

tance of the rebel "capital" itself, was bared today in a report over the insurgent Corunna radio that the "nationalist" government would shortly be transferred to Salamanca.

Loyalists Reconnoiter

Loyalist airplanes, reconnoitering over the rebel lines in the vicinity of Madrid today, reported major troop movements in the vicinity of Pozuelo, six miles northwest of the capital, indicating that the 'big push" may come from that quarter.

Eerie calm all along the immediate Madrid front substantiated the belief that the insurgent onslaught is imminent.

Fifteen bombing planes followed the loyalist scout craft, dropping explosives on insurgent positions, and machine-gunning their lines.

Rebels retaliated with a swoop on Alcala De Henares, killing seven, and wounding 50, and dropping a bomb on Toledo bridge, leading in to Madrid.

Two dangerous international incidents were reported today. Seven French civilian subjects being evacuated from Spain were injured when a rebel plane shot down a seaplane in the service of the French embassy near Pastrana, Guadalajara.

Lisbon reported that the rebel fleet fired on and damaged a Russian cargo ship near Gilbraltar and then drove the ship into Cadiz.

PREMIER DELAYS NEW STATEMENT ON KING'S PLANS

the premier is aware that great financial inconvenience is being caused to many subjects in this country by the delay in coming to a decision, and will the premier kindly suggest to his majesty the necessity of an early decision?"

Cries of dissent greeted Bellenger's demand, but Baldwin answered: "I can assure you it has not escaped me."

Think King Has Given Decision

Feeling gained ground in the lobbies of the house that King Edward has reached his decision, but the exact nature of it remains unknown.

Thus there is a new flood of wild rumors regarding the decision, with the three now-familiar alternatives — renunciation, abdication and compromise—all mentioned.

The only inspired word was a semi-official statement that Baldwin's declaration will be of "utmost importance" and it was understood government M. P.'s have been advised to cancel any engagements in the country in order to ensure full attendance of government supporters in the house tomorrow.

going to be dropped by WPA who is in need of relief," Hopkins said. "If anyone who is in actual need is dropped, he can get back on."

In reply to appeals of state and city officials from his orders to cut the WPA rolls, Hopkins outlined a three-point program WPA is accomplishing.

"First," he said, "WPA has transferred 250,000 cases in the drought areas to the RA. WPA will retain about 75,000 workers in the drought area, who can be employed on WPA projects during the winter."

RA officials announced the 250,000 had been placed on a monthly grant basis, provided with funds for food and fuel.

Check Being Made

Second, Hopkins continued, a check is being made of all WPA non-relief and administrative jobs to weed out those who were not on the relief rolls. One thousand administrative workers were dropped in October, leaving 33,000 on the administrative force.

Hopkins' third point was:

"We are going to drop from WPA those people who, since they got on WPA, have developed other sources of income."

Hopkins said that three per cent of WPA workers are resigning every month for several months to accept private employment. From Nov. 7 to Nov. 28, WPA workers dropped 104,510, to 2,478,042, the lowest number since WPA was started in June 1935. The peak was 3,810,000 last March.

Still, they could price a car at $265 f. o b. if they called the motor and the wheels accessories.

Deaths of the Day

Funeral Of Mrs. McKnight

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence McKnight, widow of Thomas J. McKnight, of Hickory township, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the East Brook U. P. church of which Mrs. McKnight was a member.

The services were in charge of Rev. J. M. Guthrie, pastor of the church; Rev. L. S. Clark, of New York state, a former pastor, and Rev. Charles Stunkard, of Fredonia, Pa. The church was filled with sorrowing friends of the deceased and her family. There were many beautiful flowers. During the services Mrs. Covert played several touching selections on the organ.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Uber & Sons funeral home Slippery Rock, at 2:30 p. m. Friday, with the former Methodist Episcopal minister of Slippery Rock, Rev. Lewis Elbel, now of Clintonville, in charge. Interment will be made in Slippery Rock cemetery.

Mrs. Crawford Funeral

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Clara A. Crawford, 413 Elizabeth street, New Castle, were conducted from the Mount Pleasant church Plaingrove township, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A beautiful service was held with Rev. Richard Owrey, pastor of the People's Mission, New Castle, officiating. Rev. William E. Plants, pastor of the Mount Pleasant church assisted with the service. Two beautiful songs were rendered by Mrs. William MacKenzie and Mrs. John Wink. They sang, "The Last Mile of the Way" and "Good Night and Good Morning".

Pallbearers included: C. E. Stone, A. D. Stone, William Stone, Sr., William Stone, Jr., Walter Stone, and Wesley Stone. Flower bearers were: Harry Brush, Merle Brush, Paul Crawford, and Mont Baughman. Interment was made in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Martin G. Thompson

Mrs. Nancy Barron Thompson aged 84 years, wife of Martin G Thompson of Slippery Rock R. D 5, died at the family residence Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. after a short illness.

Mrs. Thompson was a member of St. John's M. E. church of Hallseon near Slippery Rock.

She leaves her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Henry E. Hemphill of Slippery Rock, and Mrs. Henry Beighley of Slippery Rock R. D. 2, and four sons, Clarence A., of Slippery Rock R. D. 5; Walter B. of Detroit, Mich.; Harry E. of Greenville and Lewis E. of Grove City.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at one p. m. in St. John's M. E. church of Hallseon, and interment will be made in Slippery Rock cemetery.

Robert Gilfillan Funeral.

Funeral services for Robert Gilfillan were conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the home at Energy with Rev. C. Garman Johnston, Rev. A. B. Weize and Rev. E. B. Lawrence in charge.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnston sang "Sweet Peace" as a part of the impressive rites.

Pallbearers were Frank Forbes, James Burton, Ralph Conner, Richard Ramsey, Frank Ramsey and L. D. Conner. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Report French Plane Shot Down

French Embassy Plane Is Forced Down In Guadalajara, Spain

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 9.—Riddled by machine-gun bullets reportedly spouting from a German-built airplane in the service of the Spanish rebels, a French embassy airplane was forced down in Guadalajara, Spain, and four civilians injured, it was confirmed today.

Two of those hurt and in hospitals are French newspaper reporters and the other two are employees of the International Red Cross—dangerous circumstances that might lead to an international incident.

The French foreign office, seeking to minimize the importance of the affair, however, said no immediate protest either to the Spanish rebel "government" or to Germany—should Germans be found to be involved—was at present contemplated.

New Jersey is said to have been the first state to establish a highway department; that was in 1891.

Plumbers Must Secure License

Harold Dunlap, inspector of plumbing for the city of New Castle, today warned plumbers, both master and journeyman, they must take out their 1937 licenses this month. Some have already taken out their licenses, he stated.

LADIES OF LIONS ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS

Tuesday evening the Ladies of the Lions held their December meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Henderson on Lincoln avenue, with husbands as special guests.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Numa F. Vidal, and she introduced Mrs. Burr M. Rogers, who led a period of school days Christmas carol singing. Following, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was sung by Mrs. Reed Smith with Mrs. J. L. Reed accompanist.

Next a Court of Family Relations was held, with Mrs. James Vogan presiding. Ping pong was enjoyed by some of the men in attendance, and informal pastimes claimed attention of the other guests.

Featuring the occasion was an excellent book review given by Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts on "Gone With the Wind".

A delicious Christmas lunch was served at the close of the evening's entertainment, the hostess being assisted by the social committee composed of Mrs. A. H. Borland, chairman, with the following aides: Mrs. Reed E. Smith, Mrs. T. I. Elliott, Mrs. R. D. Wilson and Mrs. Burr M. Rogers. The table was beautifully decorated with holly and pine combined to make an attractive centerpiece, with branching candelabra guarding either side.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, January 12, at the home of Mrs. Numa F. Vidal, 308 Englewood avenue.

STAG THURSDAY AT FIELD CLUB HOUSE

Plans are complete for a stag party to be held at the New Castle Field Club on Thursday evening, for the pleasure of its membership.

Activities will begin at 8 o'clock with a smoker, card contests and other activities, and will wind up with an oyster stew for the attending guests.

Cosmopolitan Auxiliary

Cosmopolitan League Auxiliary will meet this evening at 7 o'clock in the Tigers rooms. There will be a discussion on citizenship and naturalization, and a surprise entertainment.

MRS. WILLIAM WIGNALL HOSTESS TO COMMITTEE

Mrs. William Wignall of Maryland avenue, entertained in a delightfully informal manner Tuesday evening, her committee of aides who so ably assisted her with the White Shrine No. 14 party held on November 19 at the Cathedral in appreciation for their co-operation.

The event was held at the Wignall residence and tables of cards filled in the early hours. Four tables of players competed for honors, with Miss Mollie Davis and Mrs. Cecelia Gowell winning bridge honors. In 500, Mrs. William E. Harris, Miss Florence Hitchin and Mrs. William Wendt received the prizes.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at an appropriate hour, with Miss Ann Hitchen, assisting. Holiday appointments were used throughout in the decorating of the small tables, and each was centered with a miniature pine tree.

Mrs. Robert Fleming was a special guest of the occasion.

AUXILIARY PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Plans for a Christmas party on Monday evening, December 21, were projected at the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, in the Legion Home, Monday evening. This will take place in the Legion Home starting with a tureen dinner for the members and their families at 6:30 o'clock followed by a program and treat for the kiddies.

Two new members were received by President Mrs. Mary Wilson, at the meeting Monday evening, making nine new members who have been obligated since the opening of the auxiliary year in October.

Plans were outlined for a card and bingo party for members and their friends on Tuesday evening, December 15, at 8 o'clock in the Legion Home. Mrs. Gertrude Speed was named chairlady and will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Craig, Mrs. Lillian Falls and Mrs. Diana Sweet with bingo, and Mrs. Ida Suber and Elinore Wilkins in charge of the lunch.

Following the business session lunch was served by Mrs. Mary Craig and Mrs. Diana Sweet.

Annual Auction Tea.

The Laura Stevenson Bible class of the Central Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. C. B. Wingerd, had its annual auction tea at Mrs. Wingerd's home on Park avenue Monday evening, in which 75 guests participated.

Mrs. Agnes Fisher was chairman of the affair. The tables had been beautifully decorated with tapers and poinsettas.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Wylie Wallace and Miss Thelma Swad.

OPEN EVENINGS

GOOD FELLOW'S CLUB AT H. SHAFFER HOME

The Good Fellow's Hunting club, composed of a group of local men who plan hunting parties each year and who made this season's trip to Cameron county together, were entertained at a venison dinner and an informal smoker Tuesday evening at the residence of Harry E. Shaffer, 380 Neshannock avenue.

The group enjoyed an appetizing menu at the appointed hour, and afterwards they spent the time leisurely telling of hunting experiences, and almost decided to adopt a new name for their organization, calling it the "Tall Story Club." Cards also and other avenues of pastime claimed attention.

During the short business session that preceded with President Bert Lane in charge, record was made of those being successful in bagging a buck this year, who were Perry McFarland and Ralph Davis. It was decided to make this dinner gathering an annual affair with club members.

DORCAS CLASS YULE PARTY AND ELECTION

Mrs. Thomas Thomas, Jr., was a special guest of the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church when they met for their annual Yuletide party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Mifflin Miller on Cunningham avenue. A short business discussion opened the program, and plans were completed for a project to take place Saturday.

The same officers were re-elected to serve the new year. They are, Mrs. Roy Nelson, president; Mrs. Mae Sweet, vice president; Melvina Davies, secretary; Hannah Richards, treasurer; Mrs. Mifflin Miller, reporter.

An exchange of gifts in observance of the Yule season followed and a social time spent with music, guessing games and contests filled in the remaining hours. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Roy Nelson and Miss Melvina Davies.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at a suitable hour with Mrs. Thomas Thomas Sr., and Miss Lela Lewis, assisting. Appointments were suggestive of the holiday season, and Yule favors were given each.

The next meeting will take place Tuesday evening, January 5 with Mrs. Roy Nelson of Croton avenue, hostess.

JUNIOR HADASSAH PLANS PARTY EVENT

Plans are completed by members of the Junior Hadassah to hold a social function on Tuesday evening, December 15, at the Cosmo Club rooms, with bridge featuring. Senior members will participate, also friends and guests of the Junior group as well.

As a special guest on this occasion, they will have Herman W. Fier, of New York City, illustrator and artist, and a brother of Dr. Fier of this city, with whom he is visiting, before continuing to his home from the National Art Exhibit which he attended recently. M. Fier will do silhouettes of the organization with his brother assisting.

Earlier in the evening, the assembly will be entertained with several piano selections given by Natalie Ehrlich

Miss Ida Levin is chairman of the affair with Mollie Wolfe sharing as co-chairman. They have on their committee of aides, Rose Greenberg, Dorothy Levine, Dora Winick, Esther Fiskkin, Irene Schiffman, Freda Shifman, Sara Waldman and Freda Sharpe.

IMPORTANT EVENTS HADASSAH CALENDAR

New Castle chapter Hadassah held an important meeting Tuesday evening, in the home of Mrs. H. Klivans on Leasure avenue.

Arrangements were completed for Founders Day, the celebration to take place Saturday afternoon, December 12, in the home of Mrs. Jacob Levine, on Neshannock avenue. This Oneg Shabat, a joyous Sabbath, in observance of Hanakah festival of dedication is in honor of the 76th birthday of Henrietta Zold, the founder of Hadassah.

Rabbi Norman Diamond, of Temple Israel, will conduct a discussion on that afternoon and Rabbi Pinchos Katz, of Tifereth Israel synagogue, will lead the singing of Palestinian songs. Mrs. L. Sandler will give a brief reading on "Hadassah's Golden Opportunity," and Mrs. L. F. Kohn will picture Zionism's first lady, the greatest living Jewess in the world.

These plans have been arranged under the direction of Mrs. L. Groden, chairman of education, and Mrs. S. Edelstein, vice chairman.

Since the month of December in Hadassah is devoted to child welfare progress in Palestine, New Castle chapter Hadassah has planned to hold the annual Thrift luncheon on Tuesday, the 29th, at Tifereth Israel synagogue.

Through this outstanding occasion, Hadassah will raise its quota for the underprivileged and undernourished children. The speaker for this event, Hadassah is happy to announce, will be Mrs. Sigmund Bravaman, leader of youth activity at Euclid Avenue Temple, Cleveland.

Mrs. Bravaman spent several months in Palestine during the past summer and is well equipped to bring her own impressions of the school luncheon fund work in the Holy Land. Being a director of Cleveland Hadassah Choral Union, she has consented to lead in the singing of Jewish folk songs that afternoon.

Other business claiming attention last night, were reports of officers and chairmen. Hadassah nurse dolls which are being sold for the benefit of infant welfare fund, Mrs. J. S. Silverman, chairman, were on display.

Mrs. J. Kulkin announced March 16, as the date for the annual Donor dance, which will again be held at the The Field Club.

Mrs. E. Kaplan outlined plans for the sale of bricks, the proceeds from which will be devoted to Hadassah's quota for the building fund for the Medical Center in connection with the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

At the conclusion of the evening's program, dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. H. Klivans, and a social period was pleasurable.

SHARE HONORS AT EVENING PARTY

Miss Ruth Markley of 1116 South Mill street proved a charming hostess to an assembly of guests at a downtown tearoom Tuesday evening to honor Mrs. Louis Steiner, nee Harriet Wolfe, and the latter's sister, Adele Wolfe, whose engagement to Al Glodman of Boston, Mass., was recently announced.

The occasion also formed a medium of bidding Adele a safe journey, as she is leaving in two weeks for an extended visit in Boston, Mass. She will become the bride of Mr. Goldman in July, 1937.

Tables of bridge formed the diversion. Doris Shenkin and Sara Waldman received the awards. Lunch was served at nicely appointed tables and flowers were used for decorative purposes.

Both guests of honor were presented with lovely gifts by the hostess at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Louis Steiner will be at home to friends at 124 New York avenue, Youngstown, O., after December 9.

MEN'S GARDEN CLUB HAS UNUSUAL MEET

Men's Garden club of Lawrence county held their December meeting Tuesday evening in a new place centrally located, Orr's Hall, on Grove street. There was a fine attendance and two new members, E. M. Kyle of North Jefferson street and E. C. Gatrall of Hillcrest avenue, were introduced by the president, J. W Anderson.

Songs, with accordian acompaniment, opened the program, these being followed by an open forum in which all the members participated to make the discussion more interesting. Many valuable subjects were presented: "How to Grow Dahlia Bulbs," by Prof. W. A. Hoffmaster; "Purpose of Winter Mulch," Prof. C. G. Lindner

"Winter Resident Birds of Lawrence County," Earl Kyle; "How to Prepare the Garden for Winter," Paul M. Allen; "Winter Care of Tuberous Begonia Bulbs," Prof. N. R. Casillo; "Insects and Earthworms," W. W. McCombs; "Beneficial Insects," Rev. J. M. Guthrie; "How to Winter Water Plants" J. S. Riley.

"Budding and Grafting," J. Frank Stevens; "The Bob White," Prof. B. K. Thacker; "The King Fisher, Not the King Fish," Owen P. Fox; "The Robin," James W. Fullerton; "Hiking," Charles Black, "Why Should Men Supporft a Garden Club?" E. C. Gatrall.

After this unusually fine program, a piping hot luncheon of oysters, pumpkin pie and other accompaniments to tempt the appetite, was served in the main hall by that very efficient group composed of Miles, Black, and Casillo, directed by the highly esteemed chef, O. P. Fox.

Sharing in last night's meeting was one guest, Arthur Prioletto.

HOLIDAY FESTIVITY HOME DEPARTMENT

Amid a Christmasy atmosphere in the home of Mrs. W. A. Womer, on Highland avenue, Tuesday afternoon the American Home department of the Woman's club enjoyed a holiday program.

A large evergreen with glistening ornaments and tinsel occupied a prominent space in the big living room, with other greens about the home. On the dining room table where tea was served after the program, Santa Claus figures and poinsettas among fragrant pine predominated.

The program opened with the singing of beautiful carols followed by each guest voicing a lovely Christmas thought for roll call.

Mrs. Clarence Davis was in charge, introducing those participating. Mrs. Russell Urmson gave an instructive, as well as interesting paper, on Christmas." Mrs. Lyle Hughes contributed two piano numbers entitled "'Serenade" by Schubert, and "The Fable" by Raff. A reading, "Aunt Willie's Christmas," by Shirley Jean Snyder was another delightful number, and Mrs. W. P. Felch, favored the group with one of her lovely songs, "A Christmas Lullaby" (Bartlett), with her daughter, Dorothy Felch, furnishing the piano accompaniment.

Still later, there was a short playlet entitled "A Christmas Poet" by pupils of George Washington Junior High, under the supervision of Miss Betty Glover. The cast included Jean Miller, Arthur Chill, Suzanne Flick, Warren White, Everett Hoffman. The young people acquitted themselves remarkably well, in concluding the afternoon's entertainment.

Tea was served with the chairman of the department, Mrs. J. J. Fisher, pouring. Aides were the assistant hostesses, Mrs. John E. Elliott, Mrs. A. H. Fullerton, Mrs. Arthur Foster, Mrs. George Ferver, Mrs. H. E. Grant, Mrs. Bessie Pitzer, Mrs. W. P. Felch and Mrs. J. E. Everett.

The event was climmaxed with an exchange of gifts among the sixty members and guests which truly topped off one of the most delightful parties of the holidays.

The next regular meeting of the Home department is slated for Tuesday, January 12, in the Boyles avenue home of Mrs. Ralph Ramsey.

WEINGARTNER CLASS DINNER AND ELECTION

Associates of the Weingartner Sunday school class of the Epworth M. E. church held their regular meeting in the community room of the church Tuesday evening, with a dinner featuring. The menu was served at 6:30 o'clock at tables attractively appointed, the committee of three, in charge, including Mrs. Clarence Connors, Mrs. George Reed and Mrs. Sherman Dilley.

Election of officers ensued, with the retiring president, C. L. Sipe, presiding. Those named to serve during the new year follow: president, Mrs. Ben Jones; vice-president, George Black; secretary, Mrs. Norman Richeal; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Gibson.

The next meeting will take place January 12 at the church.

KUPLE-KARD-KLUB PLANS DINNER PARTY

A dinner party at a prominent downtown tea room and an exchange of Christmas gifts was planned for December 19 by members of the Kuple-Kard Klub at a recent meeting, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Ziegler on Rose avenue. This is an annual celebration for club associates.

After a few rounds of card playing, prizes were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kemp and Amos Ziegler for winning honors. The hostess served lunch afterwards.

Farewell Shower.

The O. F. T. club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William Bowen, Taylor street, to honor Mrs. Howard Boughton, who is moving to Youngstown this week.

It was in the form of a farewell shower and Mrs. Boughton received many lovely gifts. Five hundred was played, with prizes falling to Mrs. Lucille Bowen, Mrs. Percy White and Mrs. Howard Boughton. Miss Thelma Harkless was a special guest.

At the close of the games the hostess served a nicely prepared lunch.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Calderwood on Friday of this week.

STILL TIME TO SHOP EARLY

THE Christmas season is actually here. Skeptics may be convinced simply by visiting the centre of the city. They will find the streets hung with greens and brilliantly illuminated. Stores are filled with far-sighted shoppers, also with great stocks of gifts. The Christmas spirit, in fact, is to be found everywhere.

It is pertinent, under the circumstances, to remind the shopping public that time flies and that there are only 14 shopping days before Christmas. It is also in order to call attention to the fact that all indications show that Christmas trade will be unusually brisk. This means that early shoppers will have many advantages in the way of comfortable transaction of business and the ability to make selections from undepleted stocks.

Furthermore, early shopping helps the shopkeeper and his employes, as well as the customer, and early mailing aids the burdened mailman. Things can be mailed in advance, marked "Do not open until Christmas." The more such mailings the less the final rush and the fewer the delayed deliveries.

"Do your Christmas shopping early" is the first Christmas motto to be heeded. From all appearances, Christmas shopping is getting under way at a pace that will provide plenty of company for those who do it now.

A NEW HAVEN FOR TROTZKY

Mexico has ever been hospitable to alien refugees, and her invitation to Leon Trotzky to abide there after his permit to reside in Norway expires December 18 offers a solution of a problem acute to most European nations as well as to the exiled Communist leader himself.

Since the execution of Zinovieff, Kameneff and other allies of Trotzky in Russia there has been no doubt that the same fate awaited him if he should return. And after Norway, which harbored him largely for internal political reasons, lately found Trotzky had violated his sanctuary by conspiring anew against present limitations of Communism, he has been held a virtual prisoner. He was without a visa, and otherwise was human dynamite.

Mexican laws would forbid him from mixing in local political life, but if Mexico permits him to use that basis for unrestrained advancement of his particular brand of World Revolution by his influential pen, his transfer to this continent may raise new questions.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE TAX UPHELD

The opinion of Federal Judge George C. Sweeney, in Boston, that the unemployment insurance tax of the Federal Security act is constitutional marks the first judicial ruling on this phase of the national insurance-and-pension legislation. Notice has been given that the decision will be taken to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals and the case, in due course, probably will reach the Supreme Court.

Although the lower court ruling does not necessarily presage approval of the unemployment feature of the security law by the highest tribunal, it is encouraging that this section of the act starts its court career with an affirmation rather than with a verdict of invalidity. The chief point of doubt concerning the Federal Security measure has not concerned its constitutionality but its workability suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. It is wholly probable that some of its more obvious weaknesses will be corrected by amendment in the near future.

Now that the states, Pennsylvania among them, are lining up to co-operate with federal government in the security program there is every reason to hope that the legislation will be upheld by the courts all along the line.

TWELVE SUGGESTIONS FOR SAFETY

Writing in the Portland Oregonian, Ray Conway, manager of the Oregon State Motor Association, gives twelve specific suggestions for reducing accidents that can be easily followed by any commonwealth, with the aid of cities and towns. His suggestions are:

1. Illuminate main traveled highways contiguous to cities.
2. Distinctly mark sections of highways where vision is impaired and passing is dangerous.
3. Erect markers to show maximum speeds allowed in congested areas.
4. Erect "Keep to Right" signs on all highways in the state.
5. Make warning signs standard in size, color and position.
6. Teach highway safety in the public schools.
7. Enforce laws from viewpoint of safety—not revenue.
8. Make statewide inspection of cars compulsory.
9. Subject pedestrians to a uniform, enforced traffic code.
10. Adopt a safety glass law covering all new cars sold.
11. Establish a drivers' school for those who wish to improve their driving.
12. Do not permit left-hand turns in metropolitan areas.

Some of these suggestions may seem of minor importance when compared with others—but all of them are essentials of a comprehensive program to make our streets and highways safer.

If every state will bring its laws and highway regulations up to date, a long step toward curbing the reckless and incompetent motorist will be taken.

New Fears For Pope.
Much About Simpson.
London And China.
And Far Cathay.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE POPE'S physician, Prof. Milani, reports his patient's condition "satisfactory," after a restful night, but later a slight heart attack caused new anxiety.

The Pontiff's age, almost eighty, is a handicap, but his courage is great and a week of complete rest in bed, with the comforting knowledge that tens of millions of the faithful are earnestly praying for him, may lead to his recovery.

WOULD YOU like some more Simpson-King Edward news? You must sort it out for yourselves; it is all mixed up.

The very latest news is that Mrs. Simpson, over her own signature, has decided to release the King and withdraw entirely from the situation,, "if such an action would solve the problem."

She is distressed to think that any connection with her might cause His Majesty the slightest inconvenience or discomfort.

Those that know Mrs. Simpson are not in the least surprised at this generous statement. Every woman knows what it means to Mrs. Simpson, who is devotedly attached to the King.

KING EDWARD'S government wants him to abdicate, if he insists on marrying Mrs. Simpson, but fears that a forced abdication might stimulate fascism and give England a real ruler, one of the Mussolini-Hitler, Stalin, Kemal Pasha type.

Chinese sympathy and Chinese newspapers are with the King whereas a majority of English newspapers are against him. In China, when they had kings, they married whom, as often and as many as they liked. What a fuss, says China, about a king marrying just one, estimable young woman.

PREMIER BALDWIN makes another speech, in the House, about the King's dreadful plan to marry a respectable young woman. It could not have been more in earnest if China, Japan, England, Russia, France, Germany, Italy and Spain had all combined to fight the British Empire.

He concludes with "our deep and respectful sympathy with His Majesty at this time" but tells His HICK.

I'M A HICK, and it's fun.

If a couple of strangers get into loud argument on a street corner, I stop and listen. . . . And half hope they'll start swinging on each other. . . . If there's a dog fight I gather round, too. . . . I lean over fences around excavations and watch steam shovels. . . . That shows I'm a hick.

When the band goes by I quicken my step. . . . I don't feel at ease in banks and if I don't watch myself I'm putty in the hands of a clever salesman. (So I watch myself.) . . . I stare at demonstrations in shop windows, and always make a mental guess on the number of beans in the jar.

I buy raffle tickets and hope to win. . . . I day-dream about having a lot of money. . . . I rattle sticks along picket fences and don't step on cracks because I'll break my mother's back. . . . If a cop rings the doorbell I wonder what I've done. . . . I don't walk on the grass.

Doesn't that prove I'm a hick?

And I gawk, too. . . . I stare at people in street cars, on the street, in trains. . . . I jaywalk. I glare at automobiles when I walk, at pedestrians when I'm riding. . . . Several times I've caught myself remarking that "It's a small world, after all", and "You never can tell about human beings". . . . And though I've lived around a metropolis for 20 years or more, I haven't learned to swagger.

But I'm not perfect. . . . I can't stare at those sullen forlong figures in patrol wagons. . . . I never say, "Is it hot enough, is it cold enough for you" . . . And I'm sort of shocked when I see an intoxicated woman or hear a woman cursing foully.

With these exceptions, I'm a hick and I like it. . . . The fellow who thinks he's seen everything and done everything and snubs his curiosity a dozen times a day is missing a lot of fun.

We have no time to stand and stare."

LIVING AND DEAD

That friend we had who moved away,
Forgotten now and never missed,
More surely lost is he than they
Who still in memory exist.
We know the dead are with us yet.
It is the living we forget.

The living change from day to day.
They age, grow rich and very proud.
The child remembered at his play
Soon walks a man among the crowd.
The little lad who lived next door
Departs, to be a boy no more.

And this it means to be alive,
That love remembers and is glad;
That in our interests we survive,
And in indifference death is had.
For we are dead beyond a doubt
To all we've ceased to care about.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:35; sun rises tomorrow 7:11.

Our idea of real economy is the leather bow tie. It can be rubbed off with a rag or held under the spigot to be cleaned. And one will wear a life time if one does not live too long.

Probably the first thing nations will say to the neighbor that disarms is "Hands Up!"

Very few of the members of the legislature who attended the special session at Harrisburg turned back the $300 of their salary the governor asked them to do. It meant a hundred dollars a day, traveling mileage and other expenses which some of the boys had never enjoyed before. The Republicans would have done the same thing.

Nobody can make more gestures doing nothing than a Pullman porter for 25 cents.

It is claimed that very few of the inmates of charitable homes have left after getting the old age pensions. The pensions don't amount to as much as living in one of those homes even a poor house.

Students at the University of Virginia, were recently advised to prefer work instead of public office but we're afraid the advice won't sink in very deep.

Here are some words that are usually misspelled. Pronounce them to some of your friends and see what happens. Innocuous, Desiccate, Innudendo, rarefy, embarrass, harass, plaguy, vilify, supersede, and picnicking.

A short social call usually takes an hour—thirty minutes for the call and thirty minutes to get away after starting.

One of the present day pleasures is opening up your new auto license to see how that outline of Pennsylvania looks.

When Pap told the gang mother had gone to Palm Beach for her health one of the boys asked what she had, and the old man replied "eight hundred dollars."

There are some things we would not wait for Christmas gifts this year and among them are automobiles, real estate, diamonds or horses. We don't want any dogs either.

The King of England has a fortune of about fifty million dollars of his very own. That's enough money to permit him to marry any lady he wants to and he can tell the highbrows to go to. One can live a long time on fifty million dollars even though married.

Good looking men are so scarce in Hollywood these days that a woman star says she is trying to make her husband do for another year.

The motto of the movie actors is a "short life and a marry one."

Another objection to the trial marriage is that a mistrial doesn't make you immune.

Postal card writer tells us we had better lay off razzing Santa Claus. The worst thing we ever said about him was that he was a bum and that was after last Christmas. We are not going to say nice things about him when he passes us and don't even give three cheers. We don't want anything he has anyhow, but we would like to have him show some good will—or sumpin' If we ever see him we will give him something nice—a necktie for instance. He would have to cut his whiskers off so it would show.

What's become of the red flannel underwear we used to see on the clothes lines, and for that matter, what's become of the clotheslines?

The reckless motorist is being curbed but can we say as much for the jaywalker?

After the deacon gets through telling of the pitfalls in his big, bad city it is evident to listeners he doesn't go out much.

The new state and national law having to do with unemployment and old age insurance will take thousands of people to do the work. Some of these days it will take as many people to carry on the public work as there are taxpayers. Government employes pay no income taxes no matter how much they make and most of them make a lot more than private citizens. There are a lot of things wrong in this country yet. Why shouldn't a congressman pay an income tax on $10,000 a year.

Don't be too hasty in condemning the capitalist; you may be one yourself some day.

An east side man was upbraiding his little son for his poor marks in school, and demanded to know why Johnny Smith, next door always had good marks. And the little fellow replied: "Well, Pop, you know Johnny has awful smart parents."

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL—If the radio is on and guests arrive, should it be turned off or low? Don't you think it is bad taste for a host or a hostess to say "I don't want to miss this program" and then, disregarding their guests, turn on the radio? It has frequently happened to me, and I resent it.
CRANKY.

Answer—It is, indeed, annoying to arrive at a friend's house for a talkfest only to discover that you must sit in stony silence and listen to something in which you have no interest. Of course, we all have our pet radio programs which we are loath to miss. But, unless we definitely know that our guests are as interested as we, the radio should remain silent while we greet our visitors who, no doubt, have come to hear about us and not to listen to far-off voices, which they might just as well have done at home. After the "ice has been broken" and conversation is at a lull the question of turning on the radio may then be brought up.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—Should a girl who has received an invitation to a wedding reception take her fiance along with her? The fiance did not receive an invitation. L. L.

Answer—The bride should have sent your fiance an invitation. Since she did not, I do not see how he may go.

Whether you attend without him is for you to decide. But if you go at all you should go alone.

British Crisis Far-Reaching.
May Lead In Turn To Left.
War Dogs Abroad Strain At Leash.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

THE BRITISH crisis over a king and his lady-love may prove to be more far-reaching than the British realize. Something has been stirred up in the phlegmatic English that is not likely to be downed. A restlessness against government and church—similar to that in other countries—may bring about a greater democracy. More, it may lead Great Britain definitely to take its place with the left.

If that be true, Germany and Italy would stand to lose. With Great Britain whole-heartedly on the other side, the dictatorships, major and minor, of Europe would find a crystallization against them.

The terrible struggle in Spain, with the dictatorships favoring the rebels and the democracies leaning toward the loyalists, would be reflected in a far broader scope in the diplomatic moves of the most powerful chancellories in the world.

Regardless of what occurs to the king now in Great Britain, the Baldwin type of Tory government seems doomed. A stirred-up people seldom subsides until at least a partial evolution has been effected. The British masses seem strongly anti-Conservative at the moment. The Simpson incident merely was a touchstone, something that let loose the suppressed feeling over working and living conditions.

It is strange, however, that the personalities who set it off are persons who never have felt want nor suffered the pangs of oppression—the king and his lady-love.

Incidentally, both sides in England, after seeing the turmoil raised, would have been eager for an immediate settlement, but each side had advanced too far. All would have been well if Mrs. Simpson had not been twice divorced and had not gone with the king prior to her divorce decree.

LEST WE FORGET

It must not be forgotten, meantime, that the real forces of action in Europe and Asia still strain at their leashes.

Germany, Italy and Japan would like to annihilate the Soviet Union—and France, too, if she should give aid.

And if Italy and Germany succeed in making Spain a virtual Fascist dependency, Great Britain's life line through the Mediterranean would be threatened—and France would have another anti-democratic border.

But there are some "buts". The Spanish loyalists have put up a surprising defense to the Fascists. And, even if the Fascists should conquer Spain eventually, there may be nothing left except a ruined land. In France, the government of Premier Blum has proved the steadiest and calmest in years. In sharp contrast to the Fascist governments, it has reached out its hand in peace in every direction. In China, Japan has received its first resistance—a resistance that has alarmed the Nipponese empire. Much resistance and Japanese credit would collapse—which might mean an uprising of the proletariat.

THE DAME OF SARK

There is a little Island about twenty miles off the coast of France in the English Channel, known as Sark. It contains about two thousand acres of good agricultural land, and has a population of about seven hundred people who farm and fish. Like the Islands of Jersey and Guernsey, it has a very irregular coastline, rocky and jagged, and if you started out to walk around the seawall, you would travel about thirty-five miles.

This Island is the only remaining feudal state in the world. It is ruled by the Seigneur and the Dame; sometimes they are called the "King and Queen" of Sark, but the Dame inherits all the mediaeval feudal rights of a ruler.

The present "King and Queen" are at present roaming around the United States. The "King" is Robert W. Hathaway, who was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale, back in the year 1913. He happened to prepare for Yale at the Thatcher School at Ojai, California, so he and his wife are there in California at the present time.

The title, however, happens to come through the Dame, whose ancestors have ruled Sark since the

Ready To Try Edith Maxwell Second Time

Hope To Secure Fair-Minded Jury From Mountain Region To Try Former School Marm

(International News Service)

WISE, Va., Dec. 9.—Somewhere in this county are 12 men today who haven't formed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of pretty Edith Maxwell, 22, the mountain school teacher accused of fatally beating her father with her slipper heel in July, 1935.

Judge Ezra T. Carter, who will conduct the second trial of the city-educated girl which starts today, said he will have sheriff's deputies scour this lonesome pine country until 12 such men are found if the first venire fails to produce 12 unbiased mountaineers.

The state appelate court set aside the verdict of the first trial held in November, 1935, which found her guilty and subject to 25 years' imprisonment.

Miss Maxwell had been held in jail from July, 1935, to September, 1936, when she was granted a new trial and her release under bond. She denied that her father died from the blows she inflicted but was killed when he fell in a drunken stagger.

Majesty, in parliamentary language, "Make up your mind and don't be too long."

THERE IS ALSO a yarn to the effect that Baldwin opposes the King's marriage, fearing that irritated, loud-roarin dominions, South Africa, Australia, Canada, would abandon the British Empire if it had a king married to an American divorcee and leave little England to herself, in case of war.

That is probably bosh, but if it happened, it would suit Japan; she would hop into nearby Australia and increase the population of that underpopulated country. Japan would know how to open Australian gold mines more rapidly and use lands now neglected.

DEMONSTRATORS parade London streets shouting for the King, carrying placards and banners, but, infra-middle class, they do not count for much in England, although they might count considerably if Fascism with dictatorship should start.

One labor leader warns Baldwin that a movement to establish a republic in England would follow an attempt to force the King's abdication. That dread word REPUBLIC! They might as well all turn American and be done with it.

THEY SAY the dying lion bore his sufferings well, until the ass came and kicked him. That seemed too much.

It must annoy King Edward to hear a Hindu religious leader denounce "the proposed unworthy alliance with a non-royal twice-divorced lady that would lower our respect for the British crown."

The King might say to the Hindu: "If it were not for the soldiers I send to India, you would still be burning young widows alive with the corpses of their old worthless husbands, and compelling little girls of eight and nine to marry old men. That is worse than my marrying an American."

MRS. SIMPSON from Cannes, France, has talked to the King on the telephone.

The King is expected to "hop" to Cannes through the air and advise Mrs. Simpson.

Queen Mary is said to have implored Mrs. Simpson to give up her son, King Edward.

THE QUESTION is raised: "If the King were forced to abdicate by his own government, would he be barred from every country under the British flag?

If so it would be sad and confusing for a young man accustomed to go and come, as in the Bible's description of the wind that "bloweth where it listeth."

IT WOULD SEEM queer to have the late king of England associated in the public mind with Trotzky, of Russia, who has been driven from one country to another. Mexico has invited Trotzky to come there and live, and might also invite King Edward. Mexicans are hospitable.

Trotzky in Mexico, incidentally, might lead to complications, possibly the sending of Stalin airplanes to Mexican territory, which would annoy Uncle Sam on Monroe Doctrine ground.

TROTZKY HAS been living closely watched by the police in Norway ever since he was accused of promoting a recent alleged conspiracy to murder Stalin, the Russian dictator. Stalin, who seems well informed, executed 16 men, all of whom dutifully confessed.

DIEGO RIVERA, persuaded the Mexican presidnt to let Trotzky in and he, Diego Rivera, is the man who was recently painting murals inside New York buildings of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

It is a complicated world.

year 1066 A. D. when William of Normandy won the Battle of Hastings and introduced the Normand blood into England and so the title and authority from this Island comes down from William of Normandy and the feudal services of the Dame are due the English Crown. Actually these two people have more power in this little Island than has the English King in his Island.

In speaking about life in the Island the Dame said: "We don't allow a single automobile, so we are not bothered with traffic laws. There are no income taxes; taxes from the land support the government. A great many visitors come to the Island. Last year there were about 20,000 who came over from Guernsey alone and our little castle, known as Seignieure, i which we live, was built in 1565."

These two are not idlers. They are farmers and the great pride of the Dame is her herd of Guernsey cows.

There may be rich Americans who have large real estate holdings and who live royally, but it is a wonderful thing to own and rule by law, in a regal manner, a contented people on a little island of 2,000 acres, without tax oppresion.

There was one subject that neither of these visitors would discuss and that was the subject of the English King and Mrs. Simpson.

Thomas Cooper has returned from the International Stock Show at Chicago.

Miss Helen McCleary of Plaingrove spent the week end with Ruth McCullough.

Miss Blanche Woods of New Castle spent the week end at her home here.

Gaylord Emery returned home after a few days deer hunting near Marienville.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Montgomery and children Betty and Donald of Sharon were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Minnie McFarland.

Mrs. Minnie McFarland, Mrs. Rachail Woods and daughter Ruth, and Mrs. Anna Livingston spent Saturday shopping in New Castle.

Former Resident Dies On Tuesday

Mrs. Owen Parsons, formerly of Galbreath avenue, New Castle, died at 1:10 p. m. Tuesday at her home in Warren, O., according to word received here. She had suffered a heart attack on the previous evening.

Mrs. Parsons leaves her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Clara Kemp, of Warren, and a son, William Parsons, of St. Ignatz, Mich.

The funeral will take place Friday at 2 p. m. in Sipe's funeral home at Warren and burial will be made in a cemetery there.

HITCH-HIKER, 77, TO LET THUMBS REST

PROSPECT, Pa., Dec. 9.—When James A. McGowan, 77, the "hitch-hiking burgess" of Prospect, embarks for the Rose Bowl game next Monday he will not depend on the sympathy of Western-bound motorists but will ride the cushions of a bus.

The veteran auctioneer, politician and what have you, celebrated his 77th birthday two weeks ago, and frankly admitted today he was getting a bit old for hitch-hiking.

McGowan expects to spend the winter on the west coast and confided to his friends that he expects to step into a new state appointment upon his return to Pennsylvania in May, 1937. He formerly was a guide at the Capitol in Harrisburg.

If the ladies want sheer stockings why not invent a transfer paper to print a spider-webb effect on the skin?

GLEANERS CLASS HAS ANNUAL YULE PARTY

The annual Christmas party of the Gleaners Class of the First Baptist church, was held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in their assembly room.

An attendance of approximately thirty-five enjoyed the program of festivities which included a playlet supervised by Mrs. Mary Landis. Two short skits followed, the first being given by Mrs. Cora Rigby and Mrs. Margaret Griffith and the second by Mrs. Grance Brown and Mrs. Cora Rigby. Little Shirley Snyder pleased with a reading and in conclusion, impromptu stunts were demonstrated by several of the membership.

A business discussion was conducted and following, a jolly old fellow named Santa Claus (Mrs. Mildred Glitch) appeared on the scene and distributed gifts to everyone.

Lunch was served with Yuletide appointments prevailing. Potted flowers were used as table centerpieces and the main ornament was a brilliantly decorated Christmas tree in miniature. Red tapers in green holders completed the arrangement. Individual favors marked the places and were taken home as mementoes by the assemblage.

Hostesses responsible for the success of the evening, composed Mrs. Maude Love, Mrs. Gladys Crawford, Mrs. Anna Elmore, Mrs. Cora Rigby, and Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith.

The next regular meeting will take place January 12 and will be in the form of a tureen dinner event.

A. U. R. Girls.

The December meeting of the A. U. R. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church took place in the home of Mrs. Edgar Thompson, Euclid avenue, with Mrs. Anna Peden as associate hostess.

Devotions were in charge of Miss Helen Ewing, who read scriptures dealing with Christmas . Mrs. C. B. Wingerd gave a beautiful Christmas greeting.

The foreign topic was discussed by Mrs. Thelma Probst. Working in nicely at this point was the reading by Mrs. Anna Peden, Mrs. Robert Duff, Mrs. Wingerd, Mrs. J. F. Walters and Miss Margaret Lowery of a series of letters from missionaries on the foreign fields.

Business of the evening was in charge of the vice president, Miss Belle Offutt. Later a social hour, and the exchange of gifts was enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Progressive Bridge Club

Progressive Bridge Club members will have a Christmas dinner at a downtown tea room Thursday evening, December 10, at 7 o'clock.

On Wednesday of the approaching week, December 16, the club will meet in regular session with Mrs. Betty Kradle, Boyles avenue.

BRIDGE AT EIGHT CLUB MEETS TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening members of the Bridge At Eight club gathered at the home of Jane Steen, West Madison avenue, for their regular bi-weekly meeting.

Two tables of bridge formed the pastime of the evening with high score awards going to Mildred Layton and Olivia Jean Yoho.

Later refreshments were served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Harriet Steen, at the small tables.

The next meeting on December 30 will be in the home of Mrs. Fred Wettich in New Wilmington.

MAHONING VALLEY CLUB ON THURSDAY EVENING

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wallace on the Youngstown road, Thursday evening, the December meeting of the Mahoning Valley Garden club will occur. Associate hostesses are Elizabeth Wallace and Vera Cox.

The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. Merle Davis, Martha Matthews and Edna Robison. They have prepared a Christmas program both timely and interesting.

Mrs. R. McBride Hostess

The Etta Gilfillian Bible class members met in the home of Mrs. Raymond McBride on Norwood avenue Tuesday evening, for their usual monthly event. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Sanders and Mrs. Walter Patterson.

After the regular business routine, a social time was enjoyed. All joined in singing Christmas carols, and an exchange of gifts occurred. These same gifts were later collected and boxed to be mailed to a mission school to make some kiddies happy on Christmas Day.

Lunch was served as the concluding feature with red and green appointments predominating.

S. C. Club

Mrs. Estell Parady of North Liberty street, was hostess to members of the S. C. club in her home Tuesday evening. Knitting and sewing were the pastimes, and a delicious lunch was served at a late hour.

On December 29 the club will hold their fifth annual Christmas party, in the form of a tureen at the home of Mrs. Parady. Gifts will be exchanged. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Isabelle Ralston and Miss Marge Hromyk.

Class Dinner Wednesday.

Wednesday evening members of Wilbur McCullough's Sunday school class of the Second U. P. church will gather in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. for a supper at 6:30, and a general social time during the remainder of the evening.

Harley Thompson and Howard Warnock comprise the committee which is taking charge of all details in regard to the dinner-party.

COLLEGE CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

College club met last evening in the third floor dining room of the Y. W. C. A. amidst a colorful and cheerful array of Christmas decorations.

The meeting was opened with the "greeting circle" in which each member was presented with a Yuletide boutonniere, a sprig of pine made into a small button hole corsage.

When the circle was completed the group under the leadership of Mrs. William J. Caldwell, with Elizabeth Williams at the piano, sang Christmas carols.

Miss Margaret Reeher, the president, was in charge of the short business meeting which followed. Miss Elizabeth Gilfillan and Miss Genevra Hazen, two new members, were taken into the club. For roll call each member answered by relating the "most outstanding "Christmas gift she had ever received. This feature added much to the merriment of the program.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Albert Street who presided over the program. A double quartet, comprised of Miss Elsie Calvin, Miss Elsie McGeorge, Mrs. James Stone, Mrs. William J. Caldwell, Mrs. Karl Wright, Miss Elizabeth Williams, Miss Marion Campbell and Miss Margaret Reeher, with Mrs. Caldwell as director and Mrs. Kathryne N. Allen as accompanist, sang two lovely numbers. Mrs. Caldwell followed with two solos in her usual charming manner.

Miss Betty Glover presented some students from George Washington junior high school in a one act comedy playlet entitled, "The Christmas Poet." In the cast were Everett Hoffman, Jean Miller, Suzanne Flick, Arthur Chill and Warren White. The playlet was very well received; the cast, for its splendid performance, was given a real ovation.

Miss Glover next gave a reading, "The Romance of Esther Orn." Miss Glover's offerings never fail to please and last evening was no exception. The double quartet followed with another selection. The phrasing and blending of tone was most commendable.

The closing feature of the program was the distribution of gifts which had been brought to the meeting place by the members. As Miss Mary VanDivort called the names of the colleges the representatives from that college selected gifts from the table until all the packages were distributed. Each member had written a greeting to correspond with her gift and these were read.

The success of the evening's program was largely due to the careful and capable preparation made by the chairman, Mrs. Albert Street, and her assistants, Miss Mary VanDivort, Mrs. William J. Caldwell and Miss Helen Westlake.

In conclusion a delicious lunch was served at a table covered with lace and centered by a Christmas tree and red candles. Miss Margaret Reeher and Mrs. Albert Street poured tea. Assisting were Mrs. Viola Healy, Miss Ruth Wallace, Miss Mary Long, Miss Frances McClaren, Miss Dorothy Edmunds, Miss Mary Rifer, Miss Geraldine Turk and Mrs. E. J. Connery.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wellman, of Harlansburg road R. D. 4, anonunce the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to Melvin Riggans, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Riggans, of Front street. No date has been set for the marriage.

CLASS PARTY AT BEAL'S SUCCESSFUL

Always eagerly anticipated as one of the high parties of the year, the holiday event held by the S. E. B. class of the First M. E. church Monday evening, in the home of Mrs. W. L. Beal, on Leasure avenue, upheld tradition. Co-hostesses were: Mrs. Arthur Lindsley, Mrs. James Elmore and Mrs. B. F. Kariher.

Lovely Yuletide appointments were used throughout the house, and in the dining room, the table piece was formed of a large red sleigh drawn by silver reindeer, on a snowy road scene. The sleigh was filled with toys, and on either side were tall red tapers, with silver sprays which completed a most attractive arrangement. The smaller tables were centered with miniature Christmas trees.

Lunch, in keeping with the season, was served, the menu likewise carrying the seasonal tones of green and red. Covers were placed for 30 guests.

There was a gift exchange, an annual custom, with the chairman of the social committee, Jane Edmunds in charge. After the distinctive presents were opened and viewed, Miss Edmunds and Mrs. W. L. Beal were appointed to look after the packing of Christmas baskets and their distribution.

Miss Alma Locke had charge of the program, following the business period. Several readings were given including "Old English Carols"; by Robert Herrick; "The Holy Well" by George Wither; "So Now Has Come Our Joyful Feast" by Robert Herrick. Miss Locke presented the readings in her usual pleasing manner, making them keenly enjoyed. Carol singing concluded the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Ida Hamilton presided at the business session, and Mrs. W. A. Womer had devotionals, taking for her theme, "The Christmas Lesson," which was very fitting and inspirational.

Dorcas Christmas Party

Forty-five members of the Dorcas class of Epworth M. E. church enjoyed a Christmas party in the church Tuesday night.

Miss Emily Rice was in charge of the business period and Miss Eva Lightner of the devotions. The program, most delightful from every aspect, was as follows:

Carol singing—led by Mrs. David Reese.

Vocal duet—Freddie Wimer and Edward Warden.

Christmas story—Mary Minnehan.

Pantomime—Billy Jean Seal.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. B. T. McConahey, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Pickel.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Elizabeth Conner, Mrs. Bady, Mrs. McCune, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. Newhardt, and Mrs. Brooks.

Croton Progressive Auxiliary

The Croton Progressive Auxiliary club will meet Thursday evening, December 17 at the home of Mrs. W. V. Massaro of 1302 Croton avenue, instead of Monday, December 14, as planned.

On the 17th, members will enjoy a Christmas dinner with preparations in charge of a committee composed of the following: Chairman, Lavina Pia, and aides, Theresa Pascarello, Mrs. A. Rubles, Mrs. A. Tavolire and Mrs. J. Perrotta.

Dinner will be served promptly at 7 o'clock and an exchange of gifts will follow.

Celeste Club

Celeste club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Julia Ford, on Cherry street.

Cards were in play, the awrds going to Mrs. F. P. O'Loughlin and Miss Mary Kennedy. Resetting the tables, the hostess served a nice lunch. On Tuesday evening of next week, the girls will have a Christmas party at which gifts will be exchanged, in the home of Mrs. R. Vetter on West Madison avenue, with her daughter, Mrs. Blaine Gillespie, hostess.

Amity Club

Miss Florence Carney, Gilmore street, will receive Amity club members in her home tonight.

L. S. C. BOOK CLUB PLANS SHARON PARTY

On December 18, the L. S. C. Book club members will motor to the home of Mrs. Karl Bradley in Sharon for a Christmas party and gift exchange as a medium of observing the holiday season.

Their last assembly was held with Mrs. L. G. Hartzell on Beckford street on a recent evening, with informal diversions claiming attention. In serving lunch, the hostess was aided by her daughter, Dorothy.

H. H. And H. Club

Mrs. Cordelia Preston was hostess Tuesday evening to the H. H. and H. club at her home on Poplar street.

All members were present and they had a nice time playing bingo in which Mrs. John Dennis and Mrs. James Perry shared as visitors. Christmas gifts were exchanged and a tempting lunch served.

The next meeting will take place December 22, at the home of Mrs. Leila Martin, 1502½ Hanna street, when an election will be held.

Insurance Law Work Commences

State Force Will Start Administration Of Newly Enacted Unemployment Insurance Law

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 9.—Federal approval having been obtained, the State Department of Labor and Industry today set about the gigantic task of administering Pennsylvania's newly enacted unemployment insurance law.

Under authorization of Governor George H. Earle after receipt of word from Washington that the Federal Social Security Board has passed favorably upon the act, Ralph M. Bashore, head of the department, obtained temporary quarters to house a small skeleton force. These workers, he announced, will begin immediately the work of dispatching registration blanks and contribution forms to 300,000 employers.

Staff Set Up

Simultaneously, Bashore announced a bureau of information, and research, a board of management and a legal staff had been set up to supervise the work. Tensard De Wolf, director of the bureaus of employment, research and information, will head the new bureau.

The work of handling the collection of contributions and banking of funds with the state treasurer will be done by the revenue department, Bashore announced, while the department of supplies will look after the mail incident to administration of the law.

Except for provisional appointments, all posts in the new setup will be under the provisions of the civil service laws.

This worship service is in observance of the "Annual Home Missions Sunday."

The Young Ladies Bible Class of the Methodist church school, will hold their regular monthly social hour and business meeting in the church annex Friday evening, December 11, at 8 o'clock. Rather than exchanging gifts, as in previous years, the members will bring presents for the children in the Methodist Children's Home at Sheffeld, Pa.

The regular monthly supper meeting of the Methodist Brotherhood, will be held next Tuesday, 6:30 p. m., December 15, announces T. J. Minner, president of the Brotherhood. W. A. Shaffer, chairman of the program committee, has arranged for Dr. C. W. McKee of Westminster College, who is the head of the Department of Economics and Business Administration, to speak.

The local ministers, Rev. J. R. Neale, Rev. W. F. Byers and Rev. M. M. Mook, met on Monday morning in the church office of the U. P. church, to complete arrangements for the "Week of Prayer", which begins Sunday evening, January 3, and closes Friday, January 8. These prayer services will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church.

City Tax Rate Unchanged For Period Of Three Years

Should city council maintain its present tax millage for the city of New Castle for the year 1937, it will mark the fourth consecutive year that 11½ mills has been the tax rate here, according to a perusal of figures for some years past. The tax millage has been higher and lower since 1922. The highest tax rate in 15 years was in 1924, when the tax millage was 13½ and the lowest was in 1925, when the tax millage was 8¼ mills, of which one quarter mill was for welfare purposes. Since 1926, this tax has been paid to the county and not the city.

The tax for poor purposes was last levied by the city in 1926 when it was a quarter of mill, the same as in 1925. For 1922, it was one half mill and the same in 1923. However, in 1924, three fourths of a mill was levied for poor purposes.

Here's a list of the total tax millage from 1922 up to and including 1936:

1922, general revenue, 7¼; sinking fund, 1¼; library, ½; poor, ½; total 9½ mills.

1923, general revenue, 9; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; poor, ½; total 12 mills.

1924, general revenue, 10; sinking fund, 2½; library, ½; poor, ¾; total 13½ mills.

1925, general revenue, 6; sinking fund, 1½; library, ½; poor, ¼; total 8¼ mills.

1926, general revenue, 7; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; poor, ¼; total 9¾ mills.

1927, general revenue, 7¼; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 9¾ mills.

1928, general revenue, 9¼; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 11¾ mills.

1929, general revenue, 10½; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 13 mills.

1930, general revenue, 9½; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 12 mills.

1931, general revenue, 9¾; sinking fund, 1¾; library, ½; total 12 mills.

1932, general revenue, 8½; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 11 mills.

1933, general revenue, 7¾; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 10¾ mills.

1934, general revenue, 9; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 11½ mills.

1935, general revenue, 9; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 11½ mills.

1936, general revenue, 9; sinking fund, 2; library, ½; total 11½ mills.

Ostrich is employed as a delicate frothy trimming for a gorgeous bed jacket. And marabou is also used to provide a very flattering quality, sometimes fashioning little capes as well as jackets.

Depreciated currency was vindicated, too. Voters expressed their willingness to get some more of it.

Missionary Group Meet On Tuesday

Home Missionary Society Plan To Send Box To Ruth M. Smith Home

Gathering at the home of Mrs. Harry Wylie, West Madison avenue, members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Mahoning M. E. church, held a fellowship meeting Tuesday evening. Twenty members were present and one new member, Mrs. I. C. Bowman, was admitted to the society.

Mrs. Sue Huehner opened the meeting with prayer, after which devotionals were led by Mrs. John Weaver, who chose "Appreciation of the Prince of Peace" as her subject. The president, Mrs. Harry Wylie, presided over a short business meeting during which it was decided to pack a box for the Ruth M. Smith Home at Sheffield.

The study book, "Education of the Negro" was in charge of Mrs. J. A. Waddell. Mrs. F. M. Fox read an interesting paper on "Peace".

At a later hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess aided by co-hostesses, Mrs. H. L. Rankin, Mrs. H. S. Gillespie and Mrs. Jack Walters.

Mrs. W. J. Klingensmith invited the group to her home on North Cedar street for their next meeting on Tuesday, January 12.

Auxiliary Meets At Local Home

Mrs. E. O. Farver Is Hostess To Presbyterian Group On Tuesday Evening

On Tuesday evening, members of the M. E. G. auxiliary of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, gathered at the home of Mrs. E. Farver on West Clayton street for their regular monthly meeting.

Devotionals were led by Miss Ethel Scheidemantle. Mrs. B. H. Galbraith, the president, presided over a short business session, after which the remaining hours of the evening were spent in the study of the topic, "The Mormons", presented by Mrs. Clarence Allen and Miss Evelyn Marshall.

Later a tempting lunch was served by the hostess aided by co-hostess, Mrs. F. W. Hamilton.

The next meeting on Tuesday, January 12 will be at the home of Mrs. F. W. Guy, North Liberty street, with Mrs. Arthur Brown, as co-hostess.

McCOY BIBLE CLASS

SODALITY TO MEET

On Friday evening members of the St. Margaret's Sodality will have a meeting at the home of Mary and Henrietta Ronan on West Madison avenue.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Officers' Rally Of Epworth League Conducted Tuesday

On Tuesday evening the annual sub-district officers rally of Epworth league societies was held in the Italian M. E. church. Ten leagues were represented.

During the devotional period over which Paul Shaw, first vice president of the sub-district, presided, Rev. John Ruggiero read the scripture lesson, and Rev. C. H. Hagadorn gave a short devotional talk, closing with a piano solo by Peter Privilli.

They then divided into department groups where they received instructions as to their work from the following leaders: Presidents, Rev. Earl Engle; first department, Fern Cloak; second department, Peter Grittie; third department, Harold Booth; fourth department, Ruth Buchanan, and secretaries and treasurers, Paul Shaw.

Later refreshments were served by the Italian M. E. league with Sue Giancola and her committee in charge.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police received complaints yesterday and last night about dogs from Meyer avenue and Albert street, DuShane and Reynolds street, and Elizabeth street. The complaints said dogs barked, knocked over garbage cans and were vicious. The dog catcher was instructed to investigate the complaints.

Detective Thomas Lynch is ill.

Plainclothes operatives are helping store detectives and clerks to guard against shoplifting.

Tom Stamati, arrested Sunday on a charge of drunkenness and fighting, was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Mayor Charles E. McGrath to three days' work around the police patrol garage in the city building.

A brief case was reported stolen from the auto of James W. McCallion, 309 Pine street, which was parked last night in the P. & L. E. railroad parking lot, East Side.

Council will hold a meeting at 10 a. m. at city hall, Thursday.

Byler Will Debate For Muskingum In Ohio Championship

A New Castle youth, Robert Byler, will be one of the six Muskingum College debaters who will go from New Concord, O., to Columbus on Saturday, December 12, to defend their reputation against other Ohio college debate teams in the annual Ohio state debate championship, it was learned today. Twenty Ohio colleges have entered teams.

BYLER

The debate question this year will be: "Resolved, That the Several States of the United States Should Adopt a One-House Legislature." Muskingum's team takes the affirmative.

Muskingum's teams have won seven of 11 earlier state championships and hopes that in this year, the 30th anniversary of debating at the school to repeat that story.

Patterson, Ill In Puerto Rico, Now On Recovery Road

Wilbur Patterson, son of J. G. Patterson, New Wilmington resident, is now recovering in a Puerto Rico hospital from a typhoid fever illness, his father had been informed today. Young Patterson, a teacher of English in a high school at San German, has been confined to St. Luke's hospital in Ponce since November 1.

The father had been notified today that his son would likely be in the hospital for at least two weeks more.

Patterson was one of 140 victims of a typhoid epidemic which broke out in San German a short while ago. He was taken to the Ponce hospital shortly after taking ill.

Patterson went to Puerto Rico to assume the teaching post two years ago.

Repairs Being Made On Grandview Ave. In Union Township

Needed repairs have been begun on Grandview avenue between West Washington street extension and the Youngstown road. Workmen began this week to level and grade the street and build a drainage system, whereby the road will not be washed out by future rains.

The surface of this road has been rough for some time and the improvements will be welcome to the residents of the avenue and vicinity. A great many motorists use Grandview avenue as an alternate route in going to and from Youngstown, in order to escape the Youngstown hill. Many large trailer-trucks traverse this way as it is sometimes difficult for them to make the hill on 422.

Traffic is now being routed over Scotland Lane, which is about one-fourth mile farther along Washington street than Grandview.

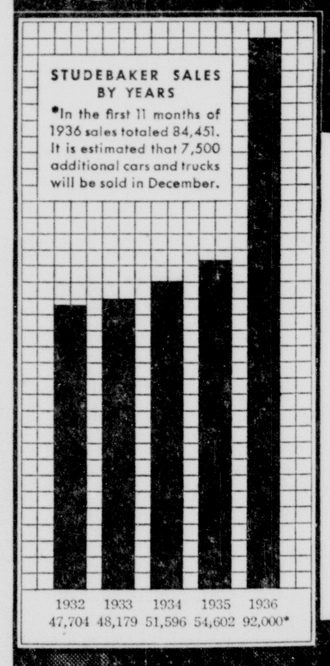
WHY IS STUDEBAKER flashing TO THE FRONT?



MIGHTY powerful competition had to be met and overcome to achieve the big increase of Studebaker in 1936. Other cars are good—and strongly intrenched.

What is Behind Studebaker's Sensational Climb?

The strategy was simple. Studebaker management knew that only one thing could focus on The Dictator and The President the attention and patronage of motorists. That one thing was—and is—better value—more for the money. Comfort, safety and performance have been characteristic of Studebaker cars. But in this year's models the public has found these two outstanding bonus features:

1. Smart, modern, pace-setting styling—charming interiors designed by Helen Dryden
2. Amazing gasoline economy

And all this has been offered at prices so low that smart money has sensed the bargain.

Alonzo Batchelor, Republican candidate for state senate in the Beaver-Lawrence district, has filed his expense account at the prothonotary's office showing that he expended $345 during the recent campaign.

With two more days yet during which executions may be filed for foreclosures in January thirty-five executions have already been filed at the sheriff's office according to Deputy Sheriff, Elmer Taylor. In the list are twenty-five executions on properties on which the Home Owners Loan Corporation holds mortgages. It is understood that the corporation has been lenient with the persons who gave these mortgages, but they either will not, or have been unable, to meet the payments. At the time the mortgages were placed all back taxes and other obligations against the properties were cleaned up, so that there has been nothing for mortgagors to do but keep up the payments on the properties.

The recent special session of the legislature illustrates the changes which time has wrought in the political set up in Pennsylvania. In former years there were times when Democrats could hold a caucus in a "telephone booth." They were a party seldom seen or heard, and then to no effect. But now, it's different. At the special session the Republicans found a small committee room in which to caucus large enough for their purposes. There are only 54 Republican house members and 16 senators.

By agreement of counsel, the court has revoked the judgment of an alderman in the case of Alex Mazur against Joseph Gerlock and has ordered that judgment be entered in favor of the defendant. Former judgment was in favor of the plaintiff. The case was one involving wages amounting to $33.50 and errors were alleged in making out the appeal.

In the case of the commonwealth against Mary Coste, in which a summary conviction on a charge of disorderly conduct before an alderman was alleged, Judge W. Walter Braham has handed down an opinion in which the defendant's specifications of error are sustained and the conviction is revoked. In commenting upon the evidence necessary to convict in a disorderly conduct case, Judge Braham draws attention to the law which says that to convict it must be shown that the person charged with the offense acted in a "loud", boisterous and unseemly manner to the annoyance of the public". The clause, "annoyance of the public" is a very essential part of the act. Merely to call some one a name, or make some insulting remark is not disorderly conduct unless it is an annoyance to the public. To convict on this charge some specific act, contrary to peace and good order, should be charged.

In the case of the school board of Ellwood City against W. C. and Stella Martin, the defendants have filed an answer to plaintiffs' rule, in which allegations set forth by the school board are denied. The case is one involving some tax liens.

Arguments were heard by Judge James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham in the case of the Mahoning Savings and Loan Association against Samuel E. and Florence L. Cutler, in which an interpleader had been filed to determine the ownership of some furniture. Arguments were also heard in the case of Leon W. Huff against Leonard B. Reinhart, on a rule for a more specific statement of claim, and in the case of A. B. Black, use of J. W. Hartwell against C. F. Simpson and James Gilliland, on a rule to open judgment.

The three day marriage license law such as is now in effect in Pennsylvania is becoming a controversial subject in a number of states. In West Virginia, where scores of couples from Pennsylvania and Ohio go to have the knot tied, there is a faction that want a three or five day law enacted, while in California, which has a five day waiting law, an effort will be made to repeal the act at the coming session of the legislature.

There are a number of states that have the three and five day laws, and more that do not. In the states having the "waiting" law the measures were usually enacted through the efforts of some club or organization intent on making all classes conform to their own ideas. Their ideas seem to have been that such laws would prevent hasty marriages.

There may be isolated cases where it has worked, but for every one of such cases there are perhaps hundreds in which it has only proven an annoyance. During the past year scores of Ohio people have come to the prothonotary's office here to secure licenses, not knowing of the three day law. Upon learning of it, some have applied for licenses, but many more have headed their buses toward West Virginia. In these days of rapid transportation, it is hard to conceive of a love sick couple, who would forgo marriage simply because they had to drive to another state.

It would seem that if the "waiting" law is a good one, it should be adopted by all states, if it is not, it should be eliminated entirely. In other words there should be a uniform marriage law for all states.

Washington U. President Once Pitt Professor

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—One feature of interest in connection with the meeting of the University of Pittsburgh Panthers and the Washington University Huskies in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day is the fact that Dr. Lee Paul Sieg, president of Washington university, is a former professor and dean at Pitt.

Dr. Sieg came to Pitt in 1924 as professor and head of the department of physics. In March, 1925, he was made dean of the college while still maintaining his position as professor of physics.

HEAD SCHOOL BOARD

GROVE CITY, Dec. 9.—Dr. W. F. Rossman and Dr. B. A. Montgomery were re-elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the board of education, to serve for 1937, at a regular meeting of the board. The secretary, Miss Mary Hanna, is elected every four years.

The board members paid a high tribute to the officers in re-electing them by a unanimous ballot.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDREN AND DREAMS

DOCTORS Josephine Foster and John Anderson of Minnesota university, have gathered some interesting facts concerning unpleasant dreams of children. Their study was reported in the June issue of "Child Development." It is based on 519 seven-day records kept by Minnesota parents on their children under 12 years of age. For each night of the week the parent answered the following questions (you might want to ask yourself the same about your child):

1. Did you hear the child cry or moan during the night?
2. Did the child come to an adult during the night, showing fear?
3. Did child, when asked in the morning, remember having a bad dream?
4. If child had a bad dream, about how long did he cry or stay awake?
5. Do you know what he was afraid of? If so, what?
6. Has he had same or similar dreams before?
7. Can you think of any recent happenings which might have caused the dream?

Here are some of the conclusions of the investigators:

1. There was no reliable difference between the dreams of the boys and the dreams of the girls. 2. The younger the child the more dreams he has, and the larger the proportion of his dreams that are unpleasant. 3. The size of family appears to have no influence upon the frequency of unpleasant dreams.

4. Children, sleeping in a bed alone show fewer unpleasant dreams than do those sharing a bed with another child, and many fewer than children sharing a bed with an adult.

Fewer When Alone

5. Children sleeping in a room alone show fewer unpleasant dreams than those sharing a room with another child. More unpleasant dreams are found when the child shares a room with an adult, and still more when he shares the room with an adult and another child.

6. The better the general state of the child's health, the less frequent are unpleasant dreams.

7. Children between the ages of one and four have unpleasant dreams most often about animals, between the ages of five and nine about strange or bad people, and about such impersonal dangers as war, fire and electricity; between nine and 12 about difficulties surrounding themselves, their friends and their pets.

8. The content of the dream is usually derived from exciting or emotionally toned experiences of the preceding day.

9. Children apparently are predisposed to unpleasant dreams by such states as: Overexcitement, fatigue, anger and quarreling.

Although Almost Deserted These Early Winter Days Cascade Park Has Appeal

Just a few months ago Cascade Park adorned in all the splendor of summer was thronged with youngsters and grownups, seeking recreation and rest from the hum and heat of the city streets.

Now, the park, although dressed very beautifully in its winter coat of green and white and equally attractive as during the summer months is void of nearly all human activity.

A wandering motorist who by mere chance enters the park through the upper entrance just north of the parking lot, would be amazed at the granduer and splendor that is unfolded before his eyes as he winds along the ash roads which reveal on each side lovely bits of wintry scenery.

Upon first entering this upper drive, nothing greets the view but dead leaves and underbrush, but drive on a few hundred feet and you are suddenly raised high above, and are looking down upon the winter slpendors of Cascade Park. Below you winds another drive, equally as picturesque as the one you are now travelling, fringed in white and bordered with tall Evergreens, and a wide expanse of frozen lake, upon which the only visitors to the park may be found. Garbed in winter costumes, the skaters glide gracefully, almost swanlike about on the shimmering lake of glass.

The lake lies between wooded hills heavily timbered with the tree of Christmas, the Evergreen, standing majestically before a background of fleecy white clouds, which seem to be trying to equal the grace and beauty of the skaters on the lake below.

Silence reigns. The serene atmosphere of the park actually warms one's blood and sets his every muscle tingling. The only sound which may be heard is the noiseless trickle of icy water, running from beneath the frozen ice and tumbling over the falls, at the lower end of the picnic grove, and trickles into the moving stream below. The picnic grove and the amusement center are completely deserted, benches are stacked under protecting porches, while the concessions and rides which were filled with laughing voices a few months ago are all boarded up and present rather a wierd spectacle. In other portions of the park, long trails on the sides of the hills will be turned into ski trails and jumps by lively boys and girls of New Castle following the next heavy snow.

As we wind up the road through the midway and up to the main gate, at each side of which stands the majestic hewn stone pillars, which are now covered to protect them from the weather. We pass out between these pillars onto the highway having enjoyed a most thrilling spectacle.

LEESBURG

Plan To Continue City-WPA Jobs In '37

City Will Pay For Materials Out Of Delinquent Taxes

Although no setup was made in the 1937 appropriation of any sizeable amount for city-WPA projects, the same method as existed in 1936 will be employed in 1937, it was learned today. The city provided the material for city projects and the WPA, the labor.

Projects have already been written up for next year although it is improbable, it was indicated, that all the projects can be started.

Among the proposed jobs are B street paving program, Cascade Park sewer (now under way); North street widening (now under way); airport (now under way); Neshannock creek fence; Cascade street paving; Big Run improvement and C street paving program.

SAYS W. C. T. U. WANTS TO DRY UP COUNTRY

(International News Service)

SANDUSKY, O., Dec. 9.— The women's Christian Temperance Union has a million-dollar fund and "is out to make the country dry again," according to J. Howard Proper of New York, attorney for the Eastern Wine Growers' association.

Proper spoke before a gathering of the wine industry in the Sandusky vicinity.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Schill Is Speaker Before Lions Club

Ellwood C. Of C. Secretary Heard Tuesday; Matheson Gets Gift

Secretary Russell J. "Denny" Schill of Ellwood City's Chamber of Commerce was the guest speaker Tuesday before the weekly meeting of the Lions Club.

Mr. Schill, former Ellwood City high school football coach, read to the club a paper on "What Your Boy Feels Like When He Begins to be a Man." The paper, written by Mr. Schill, was entered in a national contest in 1932 and because it was chosen as the most outstanding submitted, was read to a wide radio audience that year.

From Ellwood City the speaker brought three schoolboys, Dan Pietrocollo, Patsy Jeanette and Pete Gladosh, and interviewed them on boy-parent relationships at the close of the address.

The Lions club, in an impromptu act before Mr. Schill's talk, presented a handsome desk pen and pencil set to Lion D. Earl Matheson, manager of the local branch of Standard Brands, Inc., who has been transferred to the managership of the Wheeling, W. Va. branch. Mr. Matheson is leaving for the new post at once.

The Lions set Thursday evening, December 17 as the night for the club's annual Christmas party for blind residents of Lawrence county. The program will take place at the Epworth M. E. church, opening with a 6:30 dinner.

Christmas Music At First U. P. Church On Sunday, Dec. 20

Junior And Senior Choirs To Take Part In Impressive Music Program

At the morning service on Sunday, December 20, the junior choir will have charge of the music and will sing several special numbers.

In the evening at 7:30 p. m. a musical program quite out of the ordinary will be given. The senior choir under the direction of Albert A. Taylor will present their annual program of Christmas music, assisted by the junior choir singing from the balcony of the church. There will be a well balanced selection of fine anthems, solos, a trio for women's voices with baritone solo and violin and cello obligato and carol groups.

As a distinctive feature, the junior choir will sing carols from the balcony, some alone, and some in different arrangements with the senior choir.

Gangster Moll Held By Police

Marie Conforti, 23-Year-Old "Gangster Moll" Held By Federal Agents

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—As black-eyed Marie Conforti, 23-year-old Dillinger gang "moll," prepared on Tuesday to attend her stepmother's funeral under federal agent escort, G-men revealed that they arrested her Saturday as she sought to visit her dying relative.

Known to the underworld as Homer Van Meter's "girl,' Marie was charged eight months ago with harboring the late Dillinger lieutenant. In 1934 she was convicted of harboring Dillinger, himself, at Little Bohemia, Wis., and served a year and a day.

Charged jointly with William A. Finerty and his wife, Ella, Calumet City, Ill., of harboring Van Meter, Marie turned government witness to testify against the Finertys. During the trial she fled the court room and had been sought for six months.

Agents, aware that she would attempt to visit her stepmother, Mrs. Sarah Costello, 70, waited patiently and seized her when she turned up Saturday.

PULASKI

Fred Myers, of Andover was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Myers.

Mrs. Edward Clark, of Ellwood City spent the week end the guest of her sister, Mrs. Nettie Houlette.

Mrs. J. W. McCallister attended the meeting of the Women's club in New Castle on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ferrell of Ellwood City were guests Saturday of the latter's mother, Mrs. Laura Wilson.

Jay Jennings and Glenn Wilson of Pittsburgh spent the week end with the former's parents Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Jennings.

Herman Pollock and Frank Andrews of Sharon, were guests of the former's uncle, John H. Pollock for dinner Sunday evening.

Miss Martha Louise Bilger, Mrs. J. P. Buchanan and son Richard, Mrs. E. Reese, Mrs. J. P. Clark, Johnnie Wherry and Charles Michael were New Castle visitors Saturday.

Russell Michael and Francis Taylor will entertain the members of the J. R Meek Bible class in the Methodist Sunday school at the home of Mr. Michael on Wednesday evening.

As a result of a contest held in the Women's Benefit Association the gold or losing side met at the home of the president, Mrs. J. F. Myers on Friday evening at the close of the business meeting. A dainty lurch was served by Mrs Myers.

The Kings Daughters of Mahoning will meet with Mrs. James Smith Thursday, December 10. Each one will bring a gift for a child to be packed in a box for Columbia hospital.

TENT HALL NOTES

Miss Eva Baird of Youngstown spent Sunday with her father, T. W. Baird.

Tent Hall school is having its Christmas program Monday evening December 21.

George Munn was confined to his home from school several days last week with a boil on his face.

Mrs C. E. Campbell, Mrs. Harry Kretzer and Mary Eleanor Kretzer were Youngstown visitors, Saturday.

Friends of Mrs. Nelson Phillips of Youngstown will be sorry to know her condition is quite serious lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Duffy in New Castle in honor of the 12th wedding anniversary. They were completely surprised when a group of friends gathered and presented them with an electric perculator.

The annual holiday dinner of the Mahoning church members will be held New Year's eve at 6:30 at the church.

The Mahoning U. P. church will have a religious Christmas program at the church Sunday evening, December 20.

Rita Mae and Peggy Jo Campbell spent Saturday with their little playmate Beverly Jackson in Youngstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wright and son Glenn of Struthers took supper Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kretzer.

Mrs. Elmer Halleck and Mrs. J. Kerchner of New Castle were dinner guests Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Campbell.

FLEES OFFICERS; THEN GIVES UP

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 9.—It took four policemen and thirteen bullets to capture Leroy Price, 23, suspected burglar, after he had escaped from detectives who had arrested him.

Price broke from the grasp of two detectives and fled down an alley, starting a prolonged chase through Cincinnati streets and all four poured bullets after the fugitive.

Finally his legs folded, and he was captured unhit by any of the 13 bullets fired at him. He just couldn't run any farther, he said.

You Must Know Lydia E. Pinkham

Everybody does. For more than half a century her benign face above that high-pleated collar has looked down from the shelf of practically every drug store in America. For more than half a century her name has been a household word and women have been telling their neighbors what her Vegetable Compound has done for them.

They can't ALL be wrong. This medicine MUST be good.

There are three critical periods in a woman's life - - when the girl matures to womanhood, when a woman gives birth to her children, and the Change of Life. At these periods Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proves its worth. It is also excellent for nervous, rundown housewives . . . tired business women . . . weak young girls . . . and irritable mothers. It quiets quivering nerves, induces restful sleep and helps Nature to restore a normal condition of health and energy.

SHIPPENVILLE BANK BANDITS ARE SENTENCED

Youthful Gang Gets Long Term

Already Starting Prison Routine—Robbery Occurred December 3

FIVE CONFESS TO ROBBERY OF BANK

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—Prison doors clanged shut today on five self-admitted bank bandits, just six days after their spectacular holdup and robbery of the First National Bank of Shippenville, near Clarion, which netted them practically nothing.

Pleading guilty before Federal Judge R. M. Gibson, after being rushed through court procedures, three members of the quintet were sentenced to seven and one-half years in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, while the two remaining bandits—both 19-year-old boys—were sentenced to serve six years in the same institution.

Those Sentenced

Kenneth Myers, 27, of Buffalo, N. Y., alleged leader of the gang; Bernard Grover, 31, of North Collins, N. Y., and John Brooks, 25, of Coudersport, Pa., were given the longer terms. William Pinage and Frank Zawislak, alais Dersock, both of Austin, Pa., were meted out the lighter sentences.

Charged by the federal bureau of investigation with holding up H. H. Bittenbender, cashier of the bank; Miss Irene Mahl, assistant cashier, and Florence McElhattan, bookkeeper, on December 3, the gang escaped with only $85.13. They were hurried in their attempt when R. L. Synder, spotting the holdup from his drug store across the street tried to open fire on them. His gun jammed and he was grazed with a bullet as the bandits shot their way out of the fracas.

Quickly Arrested

They fled but within two days all had been arrested. Formal complaint was filed Monday afternoon by the F. B. I. under the new federal banking law which makes it a federal offense to rob a national institution.

Early yesterday afternoon the quintet was brought here and arraigned before United States Commissioner Roger Knox, who ordered each one held for court under $10,000 bond.

On their acquiesance to plead guilty, a hurry-up call was sent to the grand jury which indicted each on three counts: Robbing the bank, making the assault on Synder, and putting the lives of the bank officials in jeopardy.

Quick Sentences

A few minutes later they stepped before Judge Gibson who handed down the sentences.

An odd angle to the case was that the bandits lost the greater part of their small loot shortly before their arrest, two of them absent-mindedly leaving it in the automobile of a motorist who gave them a "lift" from near Shippenville to Butler.

Disposal of the case established an unusual record for speed, according to government officials. Less than 24 hours after a federal complaint had been filed against the five self-confessed bandits they were arrested by F. B. I. agents, held for court by the commissicner, indicted by a grand jury and sentenced.

Observance Of Special Holiday Season At Temple

Feast Of Lights Is Being Observed At Temple Israel This Week

Temple Israel members and Jews in all parts of the world began the eight-day celebration of the Feast of Dedication, known in Hebrew as Hanukkah, Tuesday evening. The festival commemorates the deliverance of the Jewish people two thousand years ago from the oppression of the Syrian-Greeks and is one of the joyous celebrations as well as religious devotion.

Hanukkah takes its name from the fact that the Temple was purified and re-dedicated to the service of God after its recapture from the hands of the Greeks who had defiled it with pagan and idolatrous worship. Literally the name means "Dedication", but the holiday is also known as the Feast of Lights because of the custom of lighting candles during the festival: one candle, the first night; two, the second—and so on, until on the last night the candelabrum blazes with eight lights.

This custom is derived from a legend which tells that during the rededication ceremonies a cruse of oil which was thought scarcely adequate for one day, miraculously served to keep the lamp alight for full eight days. The hero and central figure of the festival is the stalwart Judah Maccabeus who led the struggle to resist the Greeks and their command that the Jews should abandon their God and worship Zeus.

Hanukkah is observed with synagogue services and with home celebrations. In the former the ideals of religious liberty and toleration are stressed. Hanukkah parties, the giving of gifts, remembering the needy, children's games and goodies—all are part of the modern observance of the festival.

Added significance is lent the holiday at the present time by the persecution which Jews are suffering in some European countries. The biblical verse from the Prophet Zechariah in which the Maccabees placed treir faith and which is read in the synagoguge during this season now takes on new meaning, "Not by might, and not by power, but My Spirit saith the Lord of Hosts."

President Will Make Trinidad Stop On Friday

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD U. S. S. CHESTER, AT SEA, Dec. 9.—Back in northern latitudes again, President Roosevelt today put the finishing touches on an accumulation of state papers, preparatory to his arrival at Trinidad Friday, where a batch of official air mail pouches will be awaiting him.

Cutting the calm waters at 25 knots, the Indianapolis was off French Guinea today, with the tropical temperature hovering around 85 degrees.

"King Neptune" was on hand again as the Indianapolis recrossed the Equator at 7:35 p. m. yesterday, dipping the "Jolly Roger" to Mr. Roosevelt, now a confirmed "Shellback."

The final evening of fun on the Indianapolis will come Saturday, three days out from Charleston, S. C. A chorus of sailors, reporters, and secret service men is now in training to take feminine parts for a musical comedy.

Again last night searchlight exercises by both the Chester and Indianapolis were watched by the president. Rest and nearly a month in southern latitudes have browned his skin and put him in excellent health to begin the new term.

DEATH OF MISS PETTIT PROBED

indicate that the car Friedberg was driving was the one which struck her.

Jury's Verdict

The text of the jury's verdict was that Miss Pettit came to her death in the Jameson Memorial hospital on November 25, 1936, about 6:25 p. m., of injuries received when apparently struck by an automobile driven by Ralph Friedberg, at the intersection of Washington and Jefferson street, at a point commonly known as the "Diamond."

Dr. William J. Hinkson testified that Miss Pettit apparently had suffered a cranial hemorrhage, which caused her death. She was unconscious when brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital about 4:25 p. m. November 25, and died at 6:25 that same evening. He stated that he had made no further investigation, but learned afterwards that she had also suffered several broken ribs.

Saw Woman In Street

George Foster, of 20 North Beaver street, who sells newspapers at the corner of the Diamond, opposite the one where Miss Pettit was struck, told of seeing a lady lying in the street and another lady trying to help her up. He placed the time at around 4:30. He saw them put the two women in an automobile and drive away with them. He did not see them struck, however, he stated.

Dr. B. M. Sankey, who has been attending Miss Ida Paisley, who was with Miss Pettit at the time she received her injuries, stated that Miss Paisley is unable to be about, having received a severe bruise of the back of the left leg, which extended above and below the knee.

Driver Testifies

Friedberg, who is employed by Ben Brown, whose place of business is on the west side of the Diamond, stated that he was working on November 25, the day on which Miss Pettit was killed. He said he was coming down Jefferson street toward the Diamond, around 4:30 o'clock. The traffic light was against him, and he was forced to stop. When it turned green again, he put the car into low gear and rounded the corner. He drew up near the front of Brown's store, about to park, and looked in his rear-mirror to see if anyone was following him, when he noticed the two women lying in the street. He went back and helped get the two women into his car and took them to the Jameson Memorial hospital. He stated that he was unaware that he had struck them, and said that an examination by the police failed to reveal any marks on his car.

Did Not See Ladies

Friedberg stated that it was snowing hard at the time and that it was rapidly getting dark. He said he had the lights of the car on. There were no other cars in the vicinity, he admitted. He said he did not see the two ladies at any time until he noticed them lying in the street.

F. C. McGrath, of the Pulaski road who is employed at the Tin Mill, stated that he was on his way home from work on the afternoon of November 25, and was standing in the center of the Diamond, waiting for his bus to come, when he happened to look across and see Miss Pettit lying in the street. He handed his dinner bucket to his mother and went across to help pick her up. When he got there, he stated there was another lady just getting up. Miss Pettit was lying about the center of the street, just a little west of the extension of the sidewalk through the Diamond. It was dark and was snowing and blowing at the time, he stated. Mr. Friedberg's car was about 15 feet west of where the two ladies were lying in the street. He had not seen them struck, he stated.

ITALIANS PLAN TO JOIN REBELS

being drilled into shape for the campaign, it is understood, at a concentration camp hidden away in the mountains of Abruzzi.

This training is only a final organization drill, since practically all the volunteers have had military training, and many are veterans of the Ethiopian conquest.

Official circles scoffed, however, at a statement in the Paris Loeuvre that 60,000 Italian soldiers, under the leadership of six fascist army generals, are being prepared for transport to rebel Spain.

No regular army troops are going to Spain, it was stressed, those fighting for the rebels going only as volunteers, not connected with the Italian army.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

SHENANGO GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves of Shenango High School met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock with the president, Betty Davis, presiding. Sylvia Haltunen led devotions and Carrie Frengel, secretary, read the minutes.

The club voted to have a representative on the public affairs committee of the Y. W. C. A. and after a few other announcements were made, the meeting adjourned and the rest of the period was spent in making favors out of dried fruits that might be used in decorating Christmas tables.

The girls will meet next week in their interest groups of knitting, dramatics and folk dancing.

TRUE BLUE CIRCLE

Last night the True Blue Circle met in the club room of the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30. After announcements were made an election of officers was conducted. The following girls were elected: president, Sophie Rogalski; vice president, Stephani Maricone; secretary, Hedwig Kapcewicz; and treasurer, Eleanor DeGilio.

Tellers for the election were Lillian Monsey and June Pyle. Lena Ross was appointed chairman of the program committee and on her committee will be Josephine Keller, Stella Kraus, Ida Kurdupski, and Lillian Monsey.

The girls voted that, beginning with next week, the group would go into their various interest groups at 7:45 and meet in their business meeting at 8:45. Next week plans will be made for a Christmas party that will be held on Tuesday, December 22.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

The finance committee will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. John Elliott is chairman.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

The public affairs committee, of which Miss Alice Sterling is chairman, will not meet on Monday, December 14, as planned, but will be on Monday, January 11, instead.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board will be conducted next Tuesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. with the president, Mrs. Robert Eckles, in charge.

SQUARE CIRCLE THURSDAY

Thursday evening at 7:30 the members of the Square Circle club of the Y. W. C. A. will meet in the "Y" for their regular meeting.

BUSINESS GIRLS COUNCIL

Officers and committee chairmen of the three business girls clubs, the Blue Triangle, Square Circle and Goodwill Graduates, met at the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening and reported on plans for assisting the association in a financial way. They will have an entertainment on January 7, sponsored by the Goodwill Graduates, a nation-wide banquet on March 2, and program on "Action for Peace."

Mrs. Mildred Weisbaker Porter was elected representative from the three clubs on the planning committee for the annual business girls conference which is to be invited to New Castle next year. Mrs. Porter will therefore be general chairman for the entire region during that event.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

The committee to plan for the annual Christmas entertainment of the Y. W. C. A. for first grade school children of several nearby schools met Tuesday evening. The entertainment will take place in the "Y" Sunday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m.

Dr. Mildred Rogers is chairman. On the committee are Audrey Bridenbaugh, Clarabelle Cope, Margaret Falls, Harriet Leighty, Ruth Ringer, Marie Palusak, Rose Nocera, Mary Tewell, Mary Belancen, Gertrude Taylor and Nancy Bechtol.

THURSDAY MEETINGS

The Blue Triangle club will have dinner at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the Elm Street branch, returning to Central branch to hear Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts continue a talk on the contribution of ancient Greek government to modern political science.

I. I. Mothers club members plan a Christmas party Thursday night. Mrs. Anna Vago is president of this organization.

Important business meetings are planned for the same night by the Goodwill Graduates club and Square Circle, at 7:30. The dramatics group will meet from 8:30 to 9:30.

Coal mines have been found to be excellent curing rooms for domestic Roquefort cheese in Pennsylvania. The shafts in the mines are whitewashed, partitioned and equipped with controlled ventilation and temperature.

Grand Jury Reports On Cases For Trial

Six True Bills Are Found And One Is Ignored In Returns Made Today

In grand jury returns made this morning to Lawrence county court, a true bill was found against Harry Mooney, charged with failure to affix revenue stamps on spiritous and vinous liquors, failing to keep records and failure to pay tax. The charge was brought by Andrew Pindro of the state revenue department.

Other true bills returned were as follows:

William Regan, operating a truck without the consent of the owner.

Joseph Vinic, aggravated assault and battery on Tony Romello.

Elmer Heckathorne, maternity charge, and Freddie Frengel, rape.

In the case of David Boyd, charged with assault and battery on Norman O'Laughlin, not a true bill was returned.

Asks Referendum On King's Abdication

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 9.—An empire referendum on the question of King Edward's abdication was demanded by Sir Oswald Mosley, Fascist leader, in a luncheon speech here today.

"We won't see the king hustled off his throne by a junta of politicians without reference to the British people," he said. "Before there is any question of abdication, the issue must be referred to the people throughout the empire."

HIGHLAND W. C. T. U.

The Misses Butz of Moody avenue received members of the Highland W. C. T. U. at their home Monday evening. The president, Mrs. T. A. Gilkey, presided.

Devotions were conducted by Miss Jane Aiken and reports by the treasurer and several committees followed.

Later the members were entertained by a group of girls from Mrs. Mary Landis' dramatic club who gave a very clever playlet, "Mother's Cooking". The presentation was very amusing and much appreciated by the union.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be on the second Monday of January, the place to be announced later.

EAST LANSING GIRL STUDENT SHOOTS CHUM

college, was to have been married to Capt. David S. Babcock, U. S. Army attache at the school, Saturday afternoon. The girls were addressing invitations to the wedding when the bizarre slaying occurred.

Police said Miss Morgan showed no signs of remorse and once in a calm voice expressed a desire to shoot one of her questioners.

Amazing Story

Asked by Dr. Lemoyne Snyder, state police physician, why she killed Miss Giltner, Miss Morgan told an amazing story which rocked this picturesque college suburb of the state capital.

"I had to shoot her," Dr. Snyder quoted Miss Morgan as saying. "I can't explain why, but I couldn't help myself. I had my father's gun with me and had to kill somebody—anybody."

She related she carried the gun at intervals for more than a year. Last Sunday she felt an urge to kill her father, Stuart Morgan, an insurance broker, "but I did not get the opportunity."

"Since October, 1935," she continued, "I have been seized with this lust to kill. I couldn't understand it myself but I'd find myself looking at some of my very best friends and was conscious of a desire to kill them.

Carried Gun

"Often I went home and got my father's gun and sometimes I carried it around all day, feeling sure I would murder someone before returning home that night. Something always happened to stop my plans.

"I had the gun when I went to Bessie's (Miss Giltner's) house yesterday, but I seemed to feel all right after I was there awhile. Then suddenly I looked up and stared at Bessie. I don't know why. Then that feeling came over me.

"My coat was hanging over the back of my chair and I just reached down and pulled out the gun, stuck it up against Bessie and started shooting.

"Everything seems sort of hazy now. I don't remember whether either Bessie or I said anything. I think not. Then I tried to shoot myself, but the gun wouldn't work.

Fled Scene

"I watched her straighten up and sort of gasp. Then she fell."

Miss Morgan said she then put on her coat, drove home and replaced the gun in her father's filing cabinet. She became restless, she said, and started out for a drive.

"I drove and drove," she said, "finally, I reached Kalamazoo. From there I drove to Battle Creek and then to Portland. At Portland I called a friend of mine and asked him to come and get me. He did and on the way back I said nothing of the shooting."

Miss Morgan was taken to the home of a friend, Mrs. F. V. Klem. There, she was arrested two hours after the shooting. She readily confessed, police said. Before Miss Morgan was taken to jail, Dr. Snyder asked her a mental-test question:

"What would you like to do now?"

Miss Morgan calmly replied:

"I don't know unless it would be to shoot you."

'Sea Of Life' Given Portrayal In Music

Accompanied by the ringing of bells, blowing of horns and other music, the journey over the tempestuous "Sea of Life" was vividly portrayed by the Allem-Miller musical party at the City Rescue Mission on Tuesday night.

First the 'sailor who is adrift on the wild waves" was shown his perilous position in a number in duet arrangement on the musical saws, followed by a vocal duet in which the singers appealed to the drifters to drift no longer," and an accordian selection ordering the use of of the "life line" by Christians to rescue those in danger of drowning. Immediately thereafter the words of the Lord were heard as He said, "Fear thou not for I am with thee. I will still thy Pilot be," and the marimba gave out the signal to "sail on."

Tonight's program will include many "Mother" songs and the message will be to mothers and their children, young or old.

If oyu are afraid your unexpected guests may not enjoy your lamb roast, wring a cloth out of vinegar and wrap same about the meat for an hour before putting in to roast. It will take away any strong taste.

Turkey Fights To Regain Two Big Colonies

Turkey Wants League To Give Alexandretta And Antioch Back, Ask Discussion

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Dec. 9.—The first concrete move of one of the powers defeated in the World war to regain possession of territories lost in the struggle was made today when Turkey telegraphed the League of Nations Council asking for council discussion of the territories of Alexandretta and Antioch.

The council is meeting tomorrow. Alexandretta and Antioch are in Syria, under French mandate of the League of Nations.

It was understood Turkey would not bluntly ask that the territories be returned to her, but instead that they be made into an autonomous independent republic. Turkey thus would be enabled to form an "anschluss," providing indirect control by Turkey.

League diplomats wondered what effect the move would have on Germayn, whose desire to regain the colonies lost in the war has been known for some time.

KEMP PROPERTY AT CASTLEWOOD SOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craig, of Harmony, Pa., have purchased the property of Russell Kemp at Castlewood. The property consists of a five-room house and one-half acre of land. Mr. Craig is employed in the tube mill at Ellwood City.

H.O.L.C. Proceeds With Executions

Previous records for executions on properties to be sold by the sheriff have been broken this month. With one day more on which executions can be filed for the January sale, the record stood at 56 this morning.

The big increase this month has been largely due to activities of the Home Owners Loan Corporation in filing executions. The number stood at 32 this morning.

My New York
By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A man parked his car the other night in 46th street and went into a restaurant wtih a lady. When he returned he fould a half-grown, smirking urchin on his running board, who promptly demanded a fee for "watchin' your car for you."

The car owner sighed and handed over a dime. Whereupon he was treated to a torrent of foul and abusive language, in which the epithet "cheap-skate" was the mildest that was tossed. Being normal, the man lost his temper and stepped out of his car, which he had already entered, to protect his lady's ears if he could from all that vileness.

And immediately he was set upon by five circle-eyed citizens, who thrashed him black and blue. He limped to the nearest police station and reported what had happened. The cops told him they were extremely sorry, that they had had a lot of other episodes of the same kind reported to them, and that it was too bad no policeman had been in the immediate neighborhood at that time

But the man who rashly parked his car in a gloomy west side stretch of 46th street—which happens to be only a few blocks from the heart of this great city's Times Square sector—is still nursing his contusions and abrasions. And he is still unable to park his car with any safety in any dark Manhattan sidestreet, except in front of a police station or alongside a car full of resting detectives armed with sawed-off shotguns.

His case is not isolated. I doubt that there is a motorist in Manhattan who has not had a similar experience, even though he emerged from it without suffering actual mayhem. The droves of young men who dash into traffic at stop light pauses, jump on running boards and dab with soiled cloths at hoods and windshields as they demand "a quarter for polishing your car" have increased steadily in numbers and insolence for months.

Now it seems to me that any city administration which mumbles piously of "noise abatement" and projects gaudy and expensive campaigns to make the clatter of the streets sound like a Beethoven sonata in the face of failure to keep the most elementary sort of order in public places, is slightly absurd.

The secular arm could do away with tire-slashing, profanity-shouting hoodlums in a week. A few squads of tough detectives armed with shaving strops for the more callow culprits and, progressively, with nightsticks, wrist bracelets and .45 automatics for the seasoned bandits, could discourage these petty racketeers in short order.

There is some excuse when the police power loses preliminary skirmishes with mobs of professional killers, well-organized and operating through all the back alleys of bribery and indiscriminate machine-gunning. But there is no excuse whatever for the prevalence of these junior thugs who extort small change against the threat of punctured tires, smashing windows or obscenity addressed to cars containing women. A little vigilance and businesslike police firmness and they'd vanish.

Except for one thing. And that is a state of mind which has been growing in the town and throughout the world. The idea is that the man is somehow culpable for owning a car in the first place, and that he should open his purse to any person with shabby clothes and a dirty face who accosts him. If the extortion is practiced by an apprentice thug of tender years, the citizen who dares to hail him into court for it is likely to get only a glare from the judge and a fine for parking overtime.

Well, the promoters of this state of mind never reflect, of course, upon the fact that it is the young petty racketeers themselves who suffer most from tolerance of their activities. They sense a lack of indignation and an absence of harsh opposition to small skullduggeries and they are lost; next month, or next year, they are shaking down citizens at point of gun in the classic postgraduate manner.

And as the streets become unsafe for ordinary citizens, as the parks become infested with all manner of human lice so that women must give them a wide berth after nightfall, as the town takes on more and more of the characteristics of Sixteenth Century London, bands of vigilantes are apt to rise and restore order with more blood and emotion than necessary. Whereupon all the self-styled liberals are horrified and wonder how it all came about.

Temperance Rally At New Bedford

Prof. Wm. Rainey Makes Chief Address At Meeting Tuesday Night

An interesting and instructive temperance rally for Pulaski district of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, was held at the New Bedford U. P. church Tuesday evening in charge of Miss Margaret Walker, the temperance superintendent of the county, and Mrs. Charles Moorehouse, district temperance superintendent.

The singing was in charge of D. S. Williams of the First Baptist church of New Castle, and the pianist was Miss Helen Sagabiel of New Bedford. Rev. Matthew Gilliland, pastor of rally church, had charge of the opening devotionals after which Miss Alice Grimes, a teacher in the New Castle schools, gave an interesting demonstration on the "inside" effects of alcohol on the human body, using the different food elements and showing the effect of alcohol on each when taken into the body.

The address of the evening was given by Prof. William Rainey, principal of the Plaingrove high school. Prof. Rainey showed that the repeal of the 18th amendment was brought about by less than ten per cent of the voters of the country, and outlined in a graphic way the results of this repeal. He also provided temperance sheets for teachers in Sunday schools.

In closing, the county president, Robert M. Strickler, Jr., stated that this was the second district rally to be held this year and that before the county convention would be held in June the other six districts would also hold similar rallies. He also stated that the temperance department had put 5,000 pledge cards in the Sabbath schools of Lawrence county and that a large number of these had been signed, in some Sabbath schools well over 90 per cent of the enrollment.

May Restore Some Of W. P. A. Workers

Order Received Here To Stop Dismissals In District No. 14

Indications today seem to point to a restoration of some of the people dismissed by the Work's Progress Administration in district 14 in the last two weeks. An order was received late Tuesday by J. Vale Downie, director, which called for a stoppage of dismissals, where those dismissed would have to go back of relief.

In the case of district 14 the reductions ordered had been made. Approximately 2600 people had been dismissed, bringing the total forces to 9900 in the four counties, Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer.

While no order has been received as yet, it seems likely that at least a partial restoration may be made. The presence in New Castle today of three executives from the Harrisburg office, George W. Mudehart, George F. Ferver and H. T. Ruker, seem to indicate such a course of action may be taken although none of them would be quoted.

Advices from Washington are to the effect that National Administrator Harry Hopkins places the responsibility for the dismissals upon the state directors.

Mr. Mudehart, one of the three executives named above is the former director of WPA here. From New Castle he went to Oil City, then to Williamsport and Lancaster before being assigned to the state executive staff at Harrisburg.

AROUND CITY HALL

There will be promotions in both fire and police departments early next year, two fire department captaincies having become vacant owing to fire-fighters having gone on pension and it is likely that there will be some police elevated due to at least four guardians of law and order being slated for retirement in January. There are several persons already eligible for the fire department captaincies, having passed a civil service test some time ago. A civil service test is not required for elevation in the department of police. There is a hot scramble for the higher-up jobs in the police department.

When the city purchases a new patrol, and the city proposes to, it will be the first time in a number of years that a patrol has been used here. It will have a light body and be fast. No doubt it will be equipped with stretcher facilities because on many occasions police have had to use police cars as an ambulance. The present cars are not suitable for conveying injured persons to hospitals and police also have had difficulty putting obstreperous prisoners in the cars.

Finance Director James L. Fink, in speaking of 1937 appropriations today declared that it has been the duty of the city to pay off all certificates bearing six percent interest as soon as the city financially could do so.

In the apropriation for 1937, is an item of $550.00 which will be used for conditioning athletic fields here. The streets department usually does the work but the cost is charged against the Parks and Playgrounds appropriation.

New Decision By Mrs. Simpson Now Rumored

By ROBERT CHASSUEIL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CANNES, France, Dec. 9.—Leading to reports that a dramatic new decision might be made by Mrs. Wallis Simpson in her romance with King Edward, one of the attorneys who represented her in her Ipswich divorce action, Theodore Goddard, today called on her at Villa Lou Viei.

Goddard flew here from London with another solicitor and Dr. W. Douglas Kirkwood, famous London physician, who is playing a mysterious part in today's swift-moving events, but who is not, it was stated, here to attend Mrs. Simpson.

All three men left their hotel this morning, but only Goddard, it was understood, penetrated the guard of Scotland Yard detectives, French surete generale men, and bulldogs outside the villa.

That Goddard will seal a final renunciation of King Edward by Mrs. Simpson, or that she might agree to abandon the proceedings of her divorce from Ernest Simpson, were two of the reports that buzzed around Goddard's trip.

First Carload Of Yule Trees Here

Sixteen Hundred Trees In First Consignment To Reach City

New Castle's first consignment of Christmas trees, about 1,600 in all, arrived in the railroad yards here this morning destined to decorate the homes in New Castle on Christmas Eve. This is the first of a number of carloads which will be used in New Castle this season.

Ranging from small table size trees to large nine foot giants, the trees, a solid mass of green, are packed layer upon layer on a long railroad flat car, with white pine posts as sideboards. This shipment of trees was cut in the forests of Vermont.

On the side of the freight car is a label which informs the reader that these trees have been examined and found to be free of the gypsy moth and other tree pests which if allowed to remain on the trees would spread rapidly throughout this district. At the present this moth is confined only to the New England states.

Dogs are used to deliver mail to French soldiers who are stationed in remote mountain regions.

Coat of Arms of King, "Wally" and Duke of York

Here are the coats of arms of King Edward, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson and the Duke of York. According to genealogical experts, the tree whence Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson sprung is as proud as that of any royal family in Europe. The root was in Pagan De Warfield, who aided William the Conqueror in the conquest of England. One descendant of Pagan became a charter member of the famous Knighthood of the Garter; another Richard Warfield, tap root of the American Warfield family, came to Maryland in 1662, when it was a British colony.

Social Security Forms Show 10,000 To 11,000 Have Jobs In City District

Post office officials today announced a "rough estimate" that three-fourths of the SS-5 workers' forms of the United States social security board had been returned to the post office already by employes of the New Castle district's business and industrial organizations and other shops and offices.

The officials expect that a total of 10,000 or 11,000 workers' forms will be returned when the registration job has been completed.

Now 3,000 Accounts Open

They reported that almost 3,000 of the cards had been forwarded to the Baltimore national office today for permanent recording. Those 3,000 should have received by now, or they will have by tomorrow at least, the stubs which notify them a social security account number has been opened for them.

Within a few days additional batches of forms will be mailed from here for filing at Baltimore.

The temporary force handling the social security work here has been kept busy since it was first called on duty a few days after the SS-5 blanks were distributed by letter carriers.

Check Cards For Errors

To prevent mistakes from getting into the Baltimore headquarters, the local staff is checking and double-checking the information which workers have supplied.

Clyde M. Stevens and William McIvor, postal clerks assigned to supervise the group preparing the cards for shipment to Baltimore, report that the work is "progressing without any trouble."

They did say, however, that many employes have supplied incorrect information and have been called in to correct the cards. The special summons sent out to workers to have them visit the post office has brought in a crowd already, it was said. Workers are co-operating, it was stressed.

There will be members present from Youngstown, Girard, Niles, Greenville, Meadville, Franklin, Oil City, Ellwood City, New Castle and Beaver Falls to witness the work. An oyster supper will be served immediately afterward.

New Castle Driver Given Recognition

Wins Second Place In State For Long Period Of Safe Driving

In an effort to find the commercial driver who has driven the longest period without having a chargeable accident or a chargeable violation against his name, and to encourage safer driving, the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council launched a contest with headquarters in Pittsburgh in which 5000 drivers entered their records. It resulted that Harry E. Shaffer, of 380 Neshannock avenue, New Castle, received second prize, a certificate in recogonition for having driven twenty years without a chargeable accident or violation.

Edward J. Klein won first prize, a loving cup which was presented him in Pittsburgh. He had driven a period of twenty years and ten days.

Want Social Security For Farmers Also

Boak Urges Government To Include Farmers In Old Age Pension Plan

OPENS STATE GRANGE MEETING

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 9.—Following the opening of the 64th annual session of the Pennsylvania State Grange here Tuesday, State Master J. Audley Boak, of New Castle, Pa., outlined the policies of the state body and then addressed the members on some of the important questions of the day.

Opening his address with a plea for peace, Boak urged that farmers also be included under the present social security legislation.

"We are convinced that hasty legislation has fallen far short of the proper solution of the problem," Boak said. "We demand that old age pensions and unemployment insurance be applicable to all or none."

Boak urged that the law be extended to include all employers, even those who have less than eight workers, and asserted that since the cost of social security will be paid by all the taxpayers, no one group should be deprived of its benefits.

He expressed opposition to increased government participation in business and urged that soil conservation programs be administered by the farmer and kept free of politics.

A man is usually logical—and is often wrong; a woman thinks logic is bosh—and often is right.

Pirates, Giants And Cubs Bid For Great "Diz" Dean

St. Louis Cardinals Assured Plenty In Return For Famous Hurler

Teams Offer Star Performers And Bundle Of Cash For Eccentric Star

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—From a source not to be questioned, since it happens to be one of the parties allegedly "approached", the following represent current demands of the St. Louis club in the Mr. D. (Diffident) Dean situation as major league baseball went into the second and more violent stage of its annual madness today:

From the Pittsburgh Pirates (for Dean)—Pitcher Cy Blanton, Outfielder Woody Jensen, five other players with which to "dress the window" and $150,000 in cash.

From the Chicago Cubs—Outfielder Frank Demaree, Pitcher Bill Lee, ditto five guys from the old wax works, ditto the $150,000.

From the New York Giants—Outfielder Mel Ott, Pitcher Hal Schumacher, ditto the five, ditto the dough.

Will Trade Dean.

It was not surprising, therefore, when Mr. Branch Rickey of the Cardinals said last night:

"I thought we were going to get somewhere with a Dean trade, but now any possible development has been postponed by at least 24 hours."

At least, I think he said hours, but maybe it was years. It didn't seem considering the alleged quotations on Dean, of vital importance either way. If the young man is that valuable, the St. Louis club shouldn't be proffering his services elsewhere. It should call out the militia and have him guarded.

Incidentally, Mr. Rickey said "it was not true" that he was dickering with Cincinnati on the basis of Dean for Paul Derringer, Ernie Lombardi and $100,000. But somehow that seemed truer than all the rest of the drivel they're sponsoring here, including a printed report that the Pirates had taken Dean and given Blanton, Arky Vaughan, Jensen, Tom Padden, a busher named Heintselman and the sum of $150,000.

Giants Get Chiozza.

You can see, from this, that we're not quite ourselves around here and I, for one, am willing to forget Mr. Dean—if Mr. Rickey only will.

Meanwhile, one-half of the Giants-Phils deal for Lou Chiozza went through last night and, according to the plighted word of all concerned, there won't be any other half. This latter was supposed to have involved Dolph Camilli of the Phils and Hank Leiber and Sam Leslie of the Giants. Instead, the latter dug up Infielder George Scharein from Memphis and sent him to Philadelphia, with the customary emoluments, for Chiozza.

The latter will be listed as a third baseman here, largely because he's tried everything else without noteworthy success. They're getting so they buy ball players on suspicion.

Deals On Fire.

There being plenty of the latter in connection with any baseball mind, perhaps some of the trades they talk about but seldom consummate will come to a head today. The Browns and Indians are still trying to reach a dicker over Solters and Vosmik; the Senators and Tigers are still ogling each other, with Newsom the supposed "interest"; the Giants want Mungo from the Dodgers and the Dodgers want everything except a percentage of the receipts.

The Reds have too many catchers; the Cards haven't enough. But if you want to make something out of it, that's more than the Reds and Cards have decided to do so far.

Beaver High Trips Union

Basket In Last Second Of Play Gives Beaver 22 To 21 Victory

Beaver High School basketball team came here last night and handed Union High a 22 to 21 defeat in the opening game of the Union 1936-37 season. The field goal by Flanigan in the final second of play gave the Beavers the nod.

Beaver took a big lead in the first period, but Union closed the gap and went ahead at the half 14 to 13. The Beavers tied the count at 18-18 as the third period closed and it was nip and tuck all the way until Flanigan made the final basekt.

Davies and Joe Ostrosky led the scoring for the Boydmen, with Flanigan and McCloskey the big scorers for the Beaverians. Union will go to Beaver for a return game on Friday night.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Texas university proposes to invite Dana X. Bible, present coach of the Nebraska Cornhuskers, to teach the Texans football at a salary of $12,000 a year, according to reports from Austin. Bible, a former coach at A. & M. college, is sought as a successor to Jack Chevigny, who was a star at Notre Dame and who has been coach at Texas U for the past three years. So far no contact has been made with Bible, who is on a hunting trip.

Ralph Gudahl has had a good golf season, having earned so far $7,561. He brought down a purse with $2,500 by winning the Miami-Biltmore open. His record this season was 71.65 strokes per 18 holes in 65 rounds of formal playing. Harry Cooper finished the year with an average of 71.85 strokes in 82 rounds.

Washington & Jefferson launched their basketball season at home Tuesday with Salem college as the invaders. The Presidents won 43 to 27. McCluskey, forward, and Laughlin, guard, accounted for 30 of the Presidents' points. Uram played guard for Salem.

Mahoning Tops Union Junior High Quintet

Score Is 18 To 14 At Union High Floor In Preliminary Game

Mahoning Junior High school came through with its second victory of the season at the Union high floor last night 18 to 14 over the fast Union Junior high quintet. The Cowmeadowmen looked very impressive in their verdict.

The Mahonings led at the half 14 to 1. Union came to life in the second half. Picirrillo and Castrucci played the best for the Seventh warders. Euzza led the Unions at bat.

The first game will send the First M. E. team into action with the New Wilmington U. P. team. The second game will find the St. Pauls and Central Christians battling. The third game will bring together the First Presbyterians and the Tifereth Israels.

Trade Winds Blow Stronger

Big League Moguls Gather In New York For Annual Trading Spree

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Write

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Trades are few, conversations many, at the major league powwows. Dizzy Dean and Bob Feller are more talked about than a certain Baltimore belle—but are not so interesting.

Flash! The Phils actually bought and paid for a ball player in cash—sum not stated, but maybe as much as two bucks. The hombre is Herschel (not Pepper) Martin of the Cards, an outfielder.

Moon Miller, old Dodger coach, was after that Albany job, which was after Babe Ruth, but chances are old Slew-Foot Buzz Arlett will wind up there as player-manager—hitting .900 and fielding .006.

Giants Want Lombardi

Hornsby wanted Woody English from the Dodgers, but Bees and Phils refused to waive on him. Dodgers are cooking up a four-way deal, but still have Mungo as their ace in the hole . . . for the Cards . . . when and if Dizzy is ever traded.

Giants want Catcher Ernie Lombardi, but the Reds are countering with Virgil Davis in exchange for a top-flight fly chaser.

Zach Taylor probably will wind up as coach of the Browns, and Cronin is trying to induce Hornsby to put a price on Solters.

Jesse Haines, most ancient of pitchers, may wind up with the Dodgers as a coach, if Grimes can swing it.

What About Feller?

Most worried man in town is Cy Slapnicka, who hopes Judge Landis will listen to reason in the Feller case—but fears the worst. Funny if the judge should decide against Owner Bradley, an old pal.

Terry's latest bid to the Dodgers—Ott, Leiber and a pitcher for Mungo. The Dodger reply: "Ha ha."

Al Schacht, baseball's funny man, has already booked himself for 200 towns next season.

Pirates Want Galan

Burleigh Grimes is going to teach his Dodger pitchers the art of dusting them off. Somebody asked him if he ever pitched to Bob Tarleton, now owner of Dallas club. "Don't remember," said Burly, "but if there are any scars on him, I did."

Kids everywhere can thank Phil Wrigley of Cubs, for putting through 50 cent ducats for them. American League may okay it.

Pie Traynor would like to give Jensen for Galan and Bryant, but Charley Grimm is acting coyly. May be some real action today.

Two Fans Send Their Selections For Best Teams

Two of the most loyal New Castle high followers, Texie Richards, Agnew street, and John Santangelo, Ray street, have sent in two football selections.

Richards has picked what he believes is the best eleven at New Castle high in 13 years. Santangelo has chosen what he calls an All-Italian team.

Saks Big Five Meets Thursday

Saks Big Five, members of the Y House-Indus league, are scheduled to practice on Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. from 7 to 8 and on Friday evening from 6 to 7 o'clock, it was announced today.

Members of this quintet are all veterans of the hardwood. Sak Levin is confident that his passers will be among the contenders for honors this season. Coulter, rugged center from the Altoona district, has been impressive. Nickerson, former Thiel and Mercer county star, also looks good. Others on the squad include: Red Crognele, Nick Driscoll, Dan Adams, Corn Powers, Jerry Liblish, Hy Levin, Sac Levin, H. Harris and Mike Kulich.

House-Indus Loop Meeting On Thursday

There will be an important meeting of the House-Indus basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Henry MacNicholas.

The following teams are urged to have their representatives at the meeting: Johnson Bronze A. A., Universal Sanitary A. A., Carnegie-Illinois Steel, House Seniors, Saks Big Five, Castletons and the East Side Merchants.

Final plans for the opening of the league will be made at the meeting.

Steelers Will Meet Thursday

Coach Arnold "Fiz" Fraser will give his Carnegie-Illinois Steel basketball team the final "once over" on Thursday night at the "Y" floor it was announced today. The practice session will start at 7 o'clock.

The House-Indus league will kickoff Saturday night. Fraser wants the following young men to report Thursday: Johnnie Grommes, Jimmy Deep, Bruce Alexander, "Bat" Parker, "Tubby" Ruha, Jack Hitchens, Bill Justinen, "Fuzzy" Neyman, Eddie Kuznir, and Eddie Skaneski.

The human body has approximately 400 pairs of muscles and a number of single muscles.

Insurance For High Athletics Gaining Favor

Members Of District One Of P. I. A. A. Vote Favorably On New Plan

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Dec. 9.—Hailed as the most progressive move in the history of state athletics, the establishment of a protection fund for athletes by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association today appears virtually assured, according to Edmund Wicht, of Harrisburg, secretary of the P. I. A. A.

After 81 of the 100 member schools of District One had voted 60 to 21 in favor of the fund at its annual meeting here, Wicht said he was confident the proposal will pass by a similar margin in other districts. The result of the state-wide voting will be known by Saturday night.

Schools joining the fund by payment of an entrance fee may insure their athletes at 75 cents per athlete for football, 50 cents for baseball and basketball and 35 cents for track. Benefits ranging from $2 to $250 would be paid for anything from loss of a tooth to death.

Pitt Is Given Lambert Trophy

Trophy Emblematic Of Eastern Grid Title Given To Pitt Panthers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—The Lambert Memorial Trophy, emblematic of the eastern football title, today was presented to the University of Pittsburgh at a student rally held at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Hall.

Henry L. Lambert and Victor A. Lambert gave the trophy in honor of their father, the late August V. Lambert.

Bobby Larue, senior right halfback, received the award on behalf of the Pitt team, which was chosen for the honor by a committee of New York sports writers. This was the first year the trophy was given.

Brief talks were given by Chancellor John G. Bowman, Mayor Cornelius D. Scully and Coach "Jock" Sutherland.

Bears Are Stopped By Youngstown, 6-0

The undefeated record held by the Wabash Bears football team of the Seventh ward has finally been blemished.

In a game played on a field covered with mud, the Bears dropped a 6-0 decision to the Youngstown Scherer eleven, at Youngstown several days ago. The count was deadlocked until the final three minutes of play when the Ohio eleven took to the air lanes to score the winning touchdown.

According to reports, the Colalucas and Bears will play next Sunday afternoon at Centennial field, for the independent title of the city.

Woody English Valuable Man

BLAEHOLDER IS GIVEN RELEASE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—Opening of the major league baseball meetings here Tuesday was accomplished by a Brooklyn Dodger attempt to send infielder Woody English to the St. Louis Browns, only to be balked when the Philadelphia Phillies and Boston Bees refused to waive on the former Chicago Cub.

Officials of the Phillies and Bees said they regarded English as too valuable to be allowed to move out of the National League and into the American.

The Dodgers obtained English and pitcher Roy Henshaw in exchange for shortstop Lonnie Frey at the minor league meetings held last week at Montreal.

George Blaholder, veteran right-handed pitcher, was sold today by the Cleveland Indians to the Milwaukee Club of the American Association in a straight cash transaction. Blaeholder, who has been in and out of the majors for 13 years, will be 33 next month. He was obtained by the Indians from the Philadephia Athletics last season.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Talk about bowling, man you should have been down to ye old bowling alley last night. One of the biggest games of the season this far was waging. A large crowd witnessed the spectacle and you never in all your awake life heard as much cheering. Before we go any farther I might mention that the game was played between the News team and the Sears team. The Sears ten pinners have a captain that beats anything I have ever seen. Maybe it's wrong to class him as a captain; it might be better to say that he is an all-around supporter. He leads the cheers, serves the refreshments and tells the boys how to make a strike. He himself very seldom makes a strike. Well we had loads of fun and gave the Sears team a good licking, that is all-in-all.

What do you say to a trip around the city? Not the old fashioned way but the ultra modern way. You're right, FLY. To see the lights from the air, well three's nothing to compare it with, you will remember it a life time. They talk about the sight from West Washington street but our sight is from where Washington himself sees it. Really friends, it's beautiful.

Once more I call you all to arms and say don't buy outside of New Castle. Our merchants can get you anything within reason. If they can't, just try one of these little classified ads on this page and watch the results.

Will be back with an idea after I see New Castle from the air.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—Edwin C. Nurss, a janitor-laborer at the Oil City post office, was under indictment here today by the federal grand jury on a charge of embezzling letters and their contents. He will be required to post bond pending arraignment before the court.

A youngster in Wellington, New Zealand, recently swallowed a whistle while cycling. He was afraid to tell his parents about it, but a fit of coughing and whistling inside him soon revealed the fact. He was rushed to a hospital, where an operation was performed and the object removed.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Market Quiet And Irregular As Traders Ignore Bullish Busines Figures

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Quiet and irregular trading ruled the stock market today, as traders ignored bullish business figures and the British situation showed little change.

Steels drifted lower despite a favorable Iron Age report, Bethlehem, Republic and U. S. Steel dipping small fractions.

The jump in power production to record high levels for the fourth time in less than two months, brought a moderate response from utility shares. Electric Power and Light again went into new high ground for the year, while American Water Works, North American and Columbia Gas & Electric were fractionally improved.

Disappointment over the Western Union dividend voted yesterday encouraged liquidation in the stock, which slumped 3½ points at the start and failed to make any appreciable recovery in late trading.

Rail shares came forward under the lead of Atchison, which spurted more than a point. More excellent earnings reports and indications loadings rebounded sharply last week were factors in the rally. New York Central, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania also were prominent.

Motors were higher. Coppers were sluggish, while aviations were mixed. Oils did little.

Bonds also were quiet and irregular. Grains and cotton were moderately improved.

Carnegie Plebes Defeat Ellwood

HUGE CENTER TOO MUCH FOR LOCALS

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Lincoln gym was a bedlam of noise on Tuesday evening when a capacity throng gathered for the opening of the 1936-37 basketball season for Ellwood City high. Coach Jerry Newton's first team here made a definite impression as they held the highly touted Carnegie Tech Plebes to a 33-21 score.

The basketball sages of the community did not hesitate to express the opinion that the team showed every indication of developing into a winner. Their zone defense of the Westminster style even puzzled the experienced Tech Plebes. But what caught the eye was the offense worked out by the locals. They had an attack and it was functioning. Bad passes and fumbling, as could be expected in the first game, ruined several scoring plays.

Despite the seemingly convincing victory for the Plebes, the locals were really better than the score would indicate. The difference was caused by the huge six-foot-six center of the Plebes, Stark. This man towered over the six-foot Ellwood centers, Mack and Flanagan. Six of Starks' seven baskets came as the result of tipping the ball in on a rebound from the bank board after a teammate had missed a shot. He was a commanding force also on defense. Due to his height he was a hard man to keep in check without fouling, of course unintentional. Ellwood lost Mack and Flanagan from the lineup because of this. Each had committed four personals.

It was in the second half that Stark went to work. The Plebes led 11-5 in the first quarter, 17-12 at the half, 29-15 in the third quarter and 33-21 final. Stark and Combs were the big guns for the victors. Hauserman and Greco were best for Ellwood. Ellwood showed uncanny accuracy at the foul line, accounting for 11 out of 14. Two pick-up teams from the Reserves played a preliminary game.

Local V. F. W. Post Meets Last Night

Many Activities Planned For Near Future By Veterans Of Foreign Wars

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Semi-monthly meeting of the Ellwood City Veterans of Foreign Wars Post was held Wednesday night in their hall on Fourth street. Routine business was in order and new members were admitted to the post at this time.

Reports were given on the recent fish fry which was a fine success. It was announced that the Saturday night dances are to be continued and that the bingo activities of the Junior Bugle and Drum Corps are improving every Saturday night, with new and larger awards. It was decided to aid several families at Christmas time. A joint Christmas party will be held Christmas week for the post and Auxiliary members and their families.

A membership contest will be staged beginning with the new fiscal year, January 1, at the end of which a banquet will be served by the post to all those participating. A degree team will likely be formed soon by members of the "Cooties."

It was voted to purchase a good health bond from the local anti-tuberculosis unit. A short talk on this was given by Frank Goodman.

It was announced that details are being worked out for the annual Memorial service as described by national headquarters. The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments by a committee. The next one will be held in two weeks.

N. S. Classes Oyster Supper

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—An enjoyable event of last evening took place at the North Sewickley Presbyterian church when members of the Young Men's class and the Sunshine class held a combined meeting with thirty participating.

Practice for the Christmas entertainment to be held at the church on Thursday evening, December 24, took up the first part of the evening. Games and contests were features of the social hour.

At an appropriate hour the young men who are taught by Walter J. Blinn served the girls a delicious oyster supper under the supervision of Steven Takacs.

New Pastor To Take Up Work

ZELIENOPLE, Dec. 9.—The Rev. and Mrs. L. Lane McCommon of Delmont, Pa., have arrived in Zelienople at the Presbyterian manse, and will take charge of the services of the local church next Sunday. Rev. McCommon was chosen as pastor of the local church at a congregational meeting held several weeks ago.

The services in the church last Sunday were in charge of Rev. C. N. Moore, D. D. of New Castle, who was the pastor of the congregation, and is now retired from active work and lives in New Castle.

Rev. McCommon was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Delmont, Pa., for the past twelve years, that being his first charge.

The manse on High street had been repaired and painted and papered ready for the arrival of Rev. and Mrs. McCammon.

Indoor Polo Field Zelienople Venture

ZELIENOPLE, Dec. 9.—Zelienople is to have an indoor polo field in the plant of the Iron City Sanitary plant that has been down for some time. The polo field has been laid out by local polo enthusiasts, and will be ready for use in a short time. The field will be about 200 feet ling and 60 feet wide. There will be three rows of seats, according to present plans and a capacity of 250 or 300.

There are few indoor polo fields in this section, and it is expected that it will be a popular place. Work has been progressing on the field and it will be ready for use in a short time.

Rev. Hugh Maxwell To Lead Singing

ZELIENOPLE, Dec. 9.—Rev. Hugh Maxwell of Ellwood City will lead a congregational singing at the local St. Peters Reformed Evangelical church next Sunday evening. Christmas music and hymns will be used. Rev. Maxwell will also sing several solos during the evening. He is well known here, and recently sang at the preaching mission. A quartet will sing, also.

Home Damaged By Fire Here

$1,500 Damage Is Done By Blaze Shortly After Midnight In Ellwood City

TWO FIREMEN ARE INJURED IN BATTLE

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—About $1500 damage was done to a home here, and two firemen were injured when a defective chimney set fire to the second story floor and attic of the home occupied by A. J. Payne and J. O. Payne at 232 Seventh street about 12:25 a. m. today. The building was a two-story frame owned by the New Brighton Building & Loan association.

The local fire department had an extremely difficult time with the attic which had suddenly burst into flame. They did a fine job keeping the flames in check considering the high wind last night. While battling the blaze Capt. Arthur Duncan received a nail in his foot and J. R. Little had his eyebrows singed off and burned about the face. Both had to receive medical attention.

Fire Chief H. T. Plante estimated the loss to the building at $1200 and to the furniture $300.

Fine Meeting Held By Mission Society

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9—Mrs. E. G. Aubrey was hostess to the regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Christian church Tuesday afternoon at her home in Ellport.

An election of officers was held with all old officers being re-elected. They were as follows: president, Mrs. Retta Maskrey; vice president, Mrs. M. E. Solsberg; secretary, Mrs. Stella Welsh; treasurer, Mrs. Theodore Ter Linden. At the business session it was decided to send an offering to J. W. West for work among the mountain people of Kentucky and Virginia; and also an offering to the Christian Home at St. Louis. Mrs. Maskrey gave a report of the work done in the past year.

At an appointed hour a tureen dinner was served by the hostess with the aid of Mrs. Clyde James, Mrs. Hildrith Welsh and Jean Mallary. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. V. V. Johnson on Fourth street.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mrs. Kenneth Alexander of Fourth ward, was a business visitor at New Castle, on Monday.

The many friends of Mrs. Luther Rugh, of Lilyville will be sorry to learn that she is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Ferd Nicholas and daughter, Mary Katherine of Renfrew were visitors last Saturday at the Clarke home, in Crescent avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Karlton, and daughter, Gladys have returned to their home in Wilkinsburg, after visiting with relatives at Wurtemburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Martin and daughters, Grace and Edna, of Warren, O., were Sunday guests at the home of relatives in Ewing park.

Mrs. Elmer Alverton, and son, Jimmy, of Foxburg are guests for several days at the R. T. Alverton home in Bridge street.

Mrs. James McCullough, and children Carolyn and Bobby, of Renfrew were recent visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDanel of the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Simmons and children, June and Howard, of Waynesburg, are spending the remainder of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Simmons and family of Center avenue.

Meeting Enjoyed By Women's Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—The Yuletide spirit prevailed at the regular weekly meeting of the Ellwood City Women's club Tuesday afternoon at the U. P. church. An interesting program had been arranged for the occasion.

Mrs. Tom Jones and her quartet rendered a number of Russian Christmas carols. The quartet was composed of Mrs. Elmer Greenham, Mrs. Harold Burns, Mrs. Frank Newman and Mrs. Jones.

The dramatic division of the club then put on a play entitled "The Last Christmas." It was in charge of Mrs. Emmett Liebendorfer. The cast had three old maids with Mrs. J. K. Painter as Sophia, Mrs. Allan Crowe as Lucretia, and Mrs. William Ketterer as Maria; a niece, Lucille, Mrs. Joe Ligo; Maggie, the cook, Mrs. Frank Gross; two actresses, Mrs. Ed. McDanel as Faye, and Mrs. Keith Hamilton as Gilda. The play was well put on and enthusiastically received.

A short business meeting was held with Mrs. Loren Springer presiding. A report of the Town Fair was given by Mrs. Erle Yahn. A report was also given of the recent Red Cross drive. The club voted to take care of two families at Christmas time and to give out 30 dresses made by the club to needy girls. The club members voted to donate money for the tuberculosis drive. In a letter to the club, Mrs. Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Earl Mallary, of Park avenue, who is residing at Jerusalem, asked the aid of the local club in organizing a women's club there. It was voted to send some hose to the Aspinwall hospital. New members admitted to the club at this time were Mrs. Judson Furniss, Miss Bessie Runyan, Mrs. Theodore Sills and Mrs. Frank Gross.

The members of the club were presented with a gift and wished a Merry Christmas by Mrs. Springer. The next meeting will be held on the second Tuesday of January.

Legion Auxiliary Has Fine Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Legion Auxiliary of this city held its regular meeting Tuesday night in the Ellwood City Furniture Company Bridge room with 35 present.

At the business meeting the membership committee was praised for receiving a national citation for its work. The organization then heard a talk at this time on the Christmas Seal drive here by Miss Edith Shremp. The auxiliary then purchased a bond, the second one in the community. The men's post had purchased the first one, the night before. The auxiliary made plans to sew clothes for the supply shelf at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Zeigler, on Spring avenue on Thursday. It was also decided to donate money and Christmas boxes to the Veteran's hospital. Personal gifts will be made to the local men there. A sum of money was voted to the local hospital for the purchasing of a special lamp for the operating room.

It was announced that a Christmas party would be held by the Legion and Auxiliary on December 22.

Adult Stamp Club Meets At Shelby

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—When the Adult Philatelic society of Ellwood City gathered in the Shelby club house, Tuesday evening for their regular monthly meeting, Lee Metheny, prominent local collector spoke to those assembled, and also placed on display a large album containing many early issues of United States stamps. He also described, displayed, and explained the cause of the different shades in colors on some of these early issues.

The short business session was in charge of T. J. O'Neil, president, and at the session plans for activities during the coming year were discussed. The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday evening, December 12, in the Shelby club, and at this time it was announced that a prominent out-of-town philatelist will be the speaker.

Compensation For Families Of Three Firemen Ordered

Triple Fatality Near Ellwood City Results In Unprecedented Compensation Decision

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9—In a decision said to be without precedent, a compensation referee today ordered compensation paid to the widow and four parents of three Brackenridge firemen killed last July when their fire truck collided with an automobile.

If it stands, it means that volunteer firemen, who serve without pay, are eligible under the workmen's compensation act even when not fighting a fire.

Albert Engleman, Paul L. Eastland and Gust J. Scalia, the firemen were killed while returning from a convention at Ellwood City, and not in the line of duty. On testimony that the Brackenridge council had ordered the firemen to attend the convention, Referee David Roberts gave Mrs. Engleman $10 a week for 300 weeks; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Eastland $5 a week for the same time, and Mr. and Mrs. Marino Scali the same. Funeral expenses of $150 were also allowed in each case.

Braeden Circle Christmas Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Fourteen members of the Mary Braeden circle of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church were entertained in a hospitable manner on Tuesday evening when they gathered at the home of Miss Ruth Badger of Wurtemburg for the regular December meeting and Christmas party.

A portion of the mission book, Congo Crosses, was studied with Mrs. Clifford Gibbons as leader and all the members reading articles on the subject.

During the business meeting activities pertaining to the circle were discussed and it was reported that the thank-offering services held on November 29, amounted to nearly nineteen dollars.

A social period followed with the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. James Badger, and her sister, Mrs. Lester Pander, serving tasty refreshments. An exchange of gifts followed. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 5.

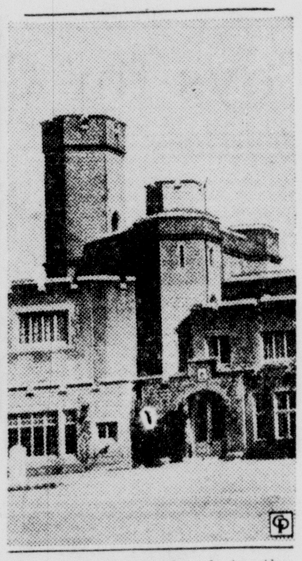
The Saga Of Mrs. Simpson No. 5 Their Meeting

On July 28, 1928, Wallis and Ernest Simpson were married quietly in London and established in the fashionable Mayfair section. On Mr. Simpson's salary of $80,000 a year, they were in a position to be seen in the right places and with the right sort of people. At first they led a quiet life, but soon were frequenting the best clubs.

Mrs. Wallis Simpson found much in common with Lady Furness, the former Thelma Morgan, twin sister of Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt. Lady Furness and her new friend attended many gay affairs together. Mrs. Simpson's mother meanwhile had married Charles Allen of Washington. Her mother's death in 1929 ended social activities.

Wally, although never having been presented at court, occupied such a social position that many really exclusive affairs were open to her. Wherever the members of the beau monde gathered, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were there. An increasing interest on the part of the Prince of Wales in Wally led Lady Furness to arrange a meeting.



Wally was introduced to the Prince of Wales by Lady Furness in 1933 at Fort Belvedere, the Prince's country residence.

The Prince of Wales, now King Edward VIII, was much attracted by Wally's brunette beauty. He also enjoyed her sparkling sophisticated wit and was delighted with her ability as a dancer. Wally knew how to do all the dances, the rhumba, the tango, the carioca and the others. The Prince enjoyed dancing with her.

By 1934 Wally and the Prince were seen at various places in Europe in almost constant companionship. In Austria they visited the beautiful Kitzbuehl in the Austrian mountains. In Vienna and Budapest society paid considerable attention to the soirees attended by the Prince of Wales in the company of Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

King's Love Is Not Our Business

No Official Interest Is Being Shown In This Country In British Controversy

BLAME PRESS FOR CREATING SCANDAL

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnnist.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—When the British newspapers belatedly pulled the cork out of the story of the King Edward VIII-Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson romance they did it to the accompaniment of a veritable explosion.

They had kept the affair bottled up so long that it was more than effervescent.

In the United States, of course, it was anything but bottled. However, it was kept hushed up at its source with such an attempt, though an unsuccessful one, at secrecy that one scarcely knew how much was fact, how much was rumor and how much was pure fiction.

A FALSE IDEA

The British dailies, weeklies and other periodicals undoubtedly have stirred a considerable proportion of imagination into their accounts of developments.

For example, one London weekly published a report that the Washington state department had expressed its opposition to a matrimonial union between Edward and Mrs. Simpson. Think of the state department as butting into such a situation!

But the English rank-and-file probably believed it implicitly.

The truth is that the London government did consult the subgovernments of the British dominions on the subject. Now the average Englishman never has quite realized that the United States is not a British dominion. Therefore, in their opinion, the United States was inadvertently included, along with Canada, Australia et ceters, among the dependencies queried by Downing street relative to the Windsor-Simpson complication.

IN ENGLAND, TOO

We have, on American newspapers, what are known as "rewrite men", who produce, from fragmentary (or no) dispatches, a lot of stuff that they think will interest the public, whether or not they are sure of it.

Under another name they have 'em in England also.

From all indications they have been very busy there since a free hand has been given to them.

BRITISH COMPLAINT

Incidentally, many English newspapers blame the American press for creating something very like a scandal out of what, in English journalists' opinion, might have been "shushed" otherwise.

They did "shush" it locally until, they complain, the American overflow inundated them.

"GLAMOROUS" OVERWORKED

Not realizing what the Windsor-Simpson affair was developing into, I didnt' begin to count, at first, the number of times that Mrs. Simpson was due to be referred to in American newspapers as "glamorous".

I've tallied up to 923, but that's no fair total.

Mrs. S. is described as a "girl" every few editions. She is past 40.

NOT IN "WHO'S WHO"

As we all know, Mrs. S. was a Baltimore girl and a frequent visitor in Washington.

Old acquaintances of hers (so they say) are to be found in both cities. But her relatives? Call on one of them—and beware of a charge from a double-barreled shotgun.

Mrs. S. was omitted from the last British "Who's Who?".

Well, says American journalistic comment, "that's better than being omitted from the telephone book". Score one for Mrs. Simpson.

DANGEROUS MENTION

The late King George is mentioned as having been a model of decorum.

A dozen years ago an English journalist of the name of Mylius got a thumping term at hard labor for charging an early affair between George (then only a princeling) and a daughter of the then Admiral Seymour.

Maybe Mylius had it coming to him.

Still, there is a lot of guff in these relationships.

Chanukah Is Most Stirring Holiday In Jewish History

Rabbi Pinchos Katz, Of Tifereth Israel, Describes Feast Of Lights

Rabbi Pinchos Katz, of Tifereth Israel synagogue, gives the following expalnation of Chanukah, the Feast of Light, the observance of which is now in progress:

Last evening a single waxen candle was lighted in Jewish homes and synagogues. On each of the seven succeeding nights one additional candle will be lighted, two on the second, three on the third, until the eighth night the Jews will have completed the observance of Chanukah—the Feast of Lights. It is a tirbute to a man whose heroism restored their temple to the Jewish people and gave the world an increased appreciation of the principle of religious liberty.

This man is Judah Maccabeus, leader of the band of ardent Jews, who dared oppose the tyranny of the Syrian monarch, Antiochus Epiphanes, and thus blazed the way for a victory, not of war and conquest, but of religious freedom and brotherhood.

In this noble deed, the Jews of all countries and of all ages rejoice. In the synagogue, in the religious school and in the home, the entire family participates in the joyous celebrations. Children listen with delight as parents and teachers tell of the story of Judah Maccabeus, a scion of the priestly Hasmonean family, who with his father, Mattathias, and his four brothers redeemed the temple of Israel from idolatrous hands.

The Syrian king, idol-worshipper at the altar of "Zeus", had caused a pagan altar to be set up in the temple of the Jews, defiling the sanctuary of God. The Jews rebelled and under the inspired leadership of the Maccabeus made their rebellion both a spiritual and a martial success. Three years later, to the day, Judah Maccabeus recaptured the temple, purified it and rededicated it in its former state of purity and holiness to the worship of God.

For eight days the Jews observed the ceremony of rededication. Legend says that only one small cruse of holy oil was available for the temple, for all the rest had been seized by sacreligious hands. This bit of oil was enough to illuminate the lamps during the entire ceremony while more was being prepared.

The children of the household assist in lighting the tapers each night and in reciting the traditional Chanukah benediction over them. Gifts are exchanged, programs and plays are given and the spirit of joyousness pervades everywhere.

In the synagogue service the reading of the scriptures coincides with the theme of the festival, notably the stirring verse from the Prophet Zechariah, which has been the sustaining strength of Israel through the centuries: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

The Sisterhood of the synagogue will serve treats to all the children on Sunday evening after the program.

C. W. Fenton To Make Address

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Dec. 9.—William Spence, 88-year-old local resident, will be honored by the Grove City I. O. O. F. lodge Monday evening, December 14, when he will have been a member of the lodge for 50 years. The lodge was instituted in 1875, and Mr. Spence joined it in 1886, when he was 38 years of age. Seymour Miller, another local citizen, has been a member 47 years.

C. W. Fenton of New Castle, who served last year as master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, will speak at the meeting.

Mr. Spence is one of three men now living here, survivors of 91 signers to a petition granted in 1883 to incorporate Grove City as a borough. The others are Charles H. Welch and James P. Locke, each younger than Mr. Spence.

NORTH BEAVER GRANGE

PLAN PROGRAM ON FRIDAY

Members of the North Beaver grange will hold a public social in their hall on Friday evening, December 11, in order that visitors may see the new changes brought about at the building. A one-act play will feature the evening's entertainment.

A Christmas program will be presented on December 18.
